States To Get Inventory on Fallout Action

Public Health Service To Outline What Can, Can't Be Accomplished

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service will have an inventory by late today of what each state can and can't do in coping with any fallout problems created by Soviet nuclear testing.

This is to be one result of a two-day meeting of about 100 federal, state and local health officers representing every state considering what steps might be taken on all levels of government if fallout hazards become acute. Judson Hardy, public affairs officer of the radiological health division, said the inventory is expected to include latest information on the states' legislative, personnel and equipment capabilities. It should also bring to light what weaknesses exist, Hardy said.

All the sessions were closed to the public and newsmen.

The service, in a statement Thursday on fallout surveillance and protection, said present fallout levels from the Soviet nuclear tests do not warrant undue public concern or drastic action.

However, the statement added that the levels "do warrant continuous, intensive surveillance by federal, state and local governments and consideration of protective measures which might be taken if they should be found necessary."

The situation within each state is being considered at working sessions continuing today. Ideas are advanced by participants, discussed, then tossed out or presented as a consensus of the group at a closing general session.

The schedule calls for adjournment in late afternoon with a news conference to summarize the meeting.

Officials who looked in on the first working sessions Thursday said it was too early to determine any conclusions.

They added that the state officials contributed heavily to discussions of states' possibilities in planning for better surveillance systems, interpretation of data, control and protective measures, and how to meet public information problems.

On another front, this question was being asked: Is the fallout from current Soviet nuclear tests powerful enough to cause cancer?

If it is, it will be evident in "Mr. Khrushchev's grandchildren and all children throughout the world" in the next 10 years, the new president of the American Cancer Society said today.

"This predication is based on the assumption that the Soviet Union's present madness does not lead meanwhile to the sudden and complete annihilation of the human race," added Dr. Thomas Carline who took office today.

"We do know that in the last 10 to 20 years there has been a sharp rise in the incidence of cancer in children and in deformed births," Dr. Carline said in a statement released to newsmen at the close of the society's annual meeting.

"The unprecedented fallout occasioned by the Soviet Union's irresponsible testing of weapons could very well present a degree of exposure beyond critical limits for safety," he stated.

Carline is chief of radiology at the Virginia Mason Hospital in Seattle and past president of the Society of Nuclear Medicine and of the Washington State Radiological Society. He succeeds Dr. John W. Cline of San Francisco as head of the cancer society.

Chief dangers of fallout to those persons alive now are cancer of the bone and cancer of the blood-forming and lymph tissue, more commonly called leukemia, he explained. For children as yet unborn, there is the danger of mutation.

"Mutations usually show themselves in spontaneous abortions, stillborn children, mental and physical cripples of many descriptions, and, perhaps once in a million cases, a super-human," Carline said.

U.S., Soviet Tanks Square Away at 200-Yard Range

BERLIN (AP)—American and Russian tanks trained guns on each other from a range of 200 yards in the explosive center of Berlin tonight.

Five American and seven Soviet tanks were at the dangerous Friedrichstrasse crossing point between East and West Berlin.

No traffic was passing between East and West Berlin, although West Berlin police insisted that the border still was officially open.

A few hours later, Premier Khrushchev served notice the Soviet Union has no intention of guaranteeing indefinitely the Western powers' access to the city.

He told a Moscow audience the West is threatening war to back up its position here. He insisted, however, that the Soviet Union has no designs on West Berlin.

And today, with U.S. tanks standing by, Army jeeps moved into East Berlin escorting a small gray American car. It was the Soviet Is Seen Admitting Duty

U.S. Points to Tank Movement as Proof

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States said today that the Soviet Union's movement of tanks into East Berlin is a "belated admission" of Soviet responsibility for that sector of the divided German city.

But State Department officials said they do not know whether the presence of Soviet military power close to the East-West Berlin sector border would ease the situation or make it more dangerous.

The point they emphasized was that whatever happens the Soviets have now conceded that they are responsible in East Berlin.

The statement here was issued soon after U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson delivered a protest to the Foreign Office in Moscow against Communist efforts to impose restrictions on travel by Western officials into East Berlin and reportedly demanded that the Soviets reassert their authority over East German police at the border crossing point.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the statement here and the Thompson presentation in Moscow pressed hard on the same central issue—the effort of the Communists to take "unilateral actions" in Berlin in defiance of the rights of the Western powers.

The Soviets, White said, have "attempted to hide behind the backs of the East Germans" by pretending that the East Germans could assume authority.

The view here was that if the presence of the tanks means that the Soviets are not only "admitting" but also "accepting" their responsibilities then the situation should improve. However, if they are there simply to reinforce East German demands with Soviet military power then it will probably get worse.

The U.S. position is that the Soviets must assume full responsibility for maintaining the right of unhindered access by allied officials to East Berlin.

White said Thompson had made an appointment to call at the Foreign Office today.

U.S. Jury Resumes Probe in Kentucky

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The federal grand jury goes back to work today with its investigation of Northern Kentucky vice.

The reconvening, coming after a recess of nearly three months, followed recent published reports that one of the principal witnesses in the George Ratterman arrest case had changed her story.

Federal officials have neither revealed the jury's agenda nor which witnesses have been subpoenaed or recalled before the jury.

But Thomas Hirschfeld, Newport city attorney, acknowledged he had been subpoenaed to appear before the jury, although he said he did not know the reason for it.

Japan Feels Fallout

TOKYO (AP)—Radioactive fallout from the Oct. 23 Soviet super-bomb explosion began reaching Japan late Thursday, the Central Meteorological Observatory announced today.

third straight day for the Army to send troops across the border.

The main issue in Berlin at the moment was the right of the United States and its allies to pass civilian officials into East Berlin without identifying them to the satisfaction of the East Berlin police.

U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson filed a protest on this issue with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Moscow, and got in turn a protest over U.S. actions at the wall separating the East and West sectors.

Only about a mile stood between U.S. and Soviet tanks in Berlin.

People who got a glimpse of the Soviet tanks after they were brought up to within a mile of the border Thursday night said they were manned by Russians. This was something new, since the Russians have contended that East Berlin is primarily the responsibility of the East German regime. Postwar agreements call for Soviet responsibility.

The Friedrichstrasse crossing remained the focus of tension.

On the Communist side of the border, Vopo — people's police — patrols carrying submachine guns were posted at every corner in the immediate vicinity of the checkpoint. An armored personnel carrier and a water cannon were behind buildings, out of sight of the American checkpoint on the West.

The Vopos and the customs guards seemed in an ugly mood. Some of them complained of "American provocations."

For the first time, they insisted on asking foreigners the purpose and destinations of their visits to East Berlin. When the visitors returned, the police demanded further information, where the foreigners had been.

Three times this week, the U.S. Army has used force to enter Communist territory to reassert the war-won right it maintains it has for free access throughout Berlin.

An East German policeman at the tense Friedrichstrasse crossing point told an Associated Press reporter: "We expect the Americans to make another attempt to use force today."

The Soviet tanks arrived in East Berlin Thursday night.

The Western Allies, throughout the crisis, have maintained that

Rocky Calls For More U.S. Atomic Tests

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The United States must resume full-scale testing of nuclear weapons, regardless of world opinion, to remain powerful enough to block Soviet aggression, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York declared today.

"To assure the sufficiency of our own weapons in the face of the recent Soviet tests," he said, "We are now clearly compelled to conduct our own nuclear tests."

Rockefeller's remarks were in a speech prepared for delivery to the national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity.

The tests Rockefeller proposed would be conducted in the atmosphere.

The Republican governor, whose bomb shelter proposals have established him as a leading spokesman on the defense phase of nuclear danger, offered a program for taking the offensive in global competition for military supremacy.

He proposed development of lighter warheads to make nuclear missiles more mobile without loss of power, antimissile weapons, better nuclear weapons for localized military actions, new weapons of greater precision and flexibility, and devices for detecting nuclear tests in other nations.

The governor also urged continuing attention to peaceful use of nuclear energy.

Admiral Says U.S. Must Resume Nuclear Testing

HONOLULU, Hawaii (AP)—Rear Adm. John E. Clark, Pacific Missile Range commander, told a news conference at Pearl Harbor Thursday the United States should resume testing both of nuclear weapons in the atmosphere and of missiles with nuclear warheads in the Pacific.

"We ultimately must test our atomic weapons system in its entirety and this means actual firing," Clark said.

U.S. TANKS MOVE UP — U.S. tanks roll through Friedrichstrasse toward the Russian checkpoint to back up a jeep escort for an American auto entering East Berlin. The escort convoyed the car, with two civilians, past Communist guards. When the Red guards delayed the vehicle's return, the jeep sped back into East Berlin to retrieve it.

Cleric Believes It's Wrong To Say God Backs Only West

WASHINGTON (AP)—A prominent Protestant said today that while "we are opposed to communism as a faith and as an ideology and as a political system," it is a "covert idolatry" to assume that God is always on the West's side in the cold war.

The Rev. John C. Bennett, dean of the faculty of the Union Theological Seminary, New York City, made his comments in a speech for the 34th annual conference of the Catholic Association for International Peace.

Speaking of possible success against communism, the seminary dean said: "The fact that the United States is a status quo nation, fearful of radical change and influenced by a large body of opinion that is still committed to an uncritical capitalistic ideology is one of the greatest obstacles to the success of the Free World in upholding its own against communism."

"The utterly self-defeating character of the intransigent forms of conservative anticommunism in this country is amazing to contemplate," Dr. Bennett said.

In stating that it should not be assumed that God is always on the West's side, Dr. Bennett said: "It is our temptation to assume that, because our opponents are atheists, God must be on our side, and to overlook the extent to which communism itself is a judgment upon the sins and failures of the middle class world, upon the Christian world."

"The very atheism of communism is a judgment upon the churches which for so long were unconcerned about the victims of the industrial revolution and early capitalism and which have usually been ornaments of the status quo, no matter how unjust it has been."

Dr. Bennett added: "The temptation to turn the cold war into a holy crusade is ever with us and in so far as we yield to it we make impossible the tolerable and humaneness which must yet come into international relations if there is to be a future for mankind."

Dr. Bennett differed with those who would rule out coexistence with communism. "Their view of the cold war," he said, "will almost certainly lead to hot war and to the nuclear catastrophe which will add to the victims of tyranny scores and perhaps hundreds of millions of new victims."

No Present Harm Seen from Fallout

CINCINNATI (AP)—Though radioactive fallout from nuclear tests will cause genetic damage to future generations, people living now have little to worry about.

This is the contention of Dr. Eugene L. Saenger, a consultant to the Atomic Energy Commission, who told the local unit of the American Cancer Society Thursday night that a baby could drink a quart of milk every day and at the end of 60 years would have absorbed only one roentgen from the radioactive iodine in milk.

Dr. Saenger, who directs the radioisotope laboratory at Cincinnati General Hospital, said 100 to 40 roentgens may produce thyroid cancer under laboratory conditions.

Huge 8-Engine Saturn Soars 95 Miles High

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Saturn, the world's largest space rocket, scored a notable success on its maiden flight today and gave new impetus to America's drive to land astronauts on the moon this decade.

It was a tremendous demonstration by a rocket which prelaunch calculations had given only 30 per cent chance of complete success.

With its massive eight-engine power plant generating 1.3 million pounds of thrust, the Saturn thundered away from Cape Canaveral at 10:06 a. m. EST, spewing a tremendous tail of fire and sending an unearthly roar rolling across the test center.

With almost unbelievable precision, the eight engines pushed the 162-foot rocket, which is larger than the Statue of Liberty, approximately the 95 miles high to the edge of space. Then the rocket plunged back to the Atlantic Ocean and sank as planned more than 200 miles southeast of the launch pad.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported the entire flight covered about eight minutes and the spent booster impacted within 10 kilometers, or about 6 miles, of its intended landing point.

Only the first stage was tested today. Two dummy upper stages were filled with water for ballast.

The historic flight, although brief, signaled America's intention to race Russia to the moon, a pledge made earlier this year by President Kennedy.

The Saturn is three times more powerful than any previous rocket launched by the United States and tops the estimated one million pound thrust of the Soviet space rockets. The success of America's

U.S. Sisters Breeze into East Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Two attractive young American red-haired sisters breezed into East Berlin in a little red car for a night at the opera. They got out only minutes before Soviet tanks lumbered into position near the Communist opera house.

"What a panic," giggled Mary Barber, 19, surprised at all the border fuss on their return to the U.S. checkpoint Thursday night.

Mary and her sister Nancy, 22, from Joliet, Ill., went into the Communist zone to catch a performance of Handel's "Ezio." They got salutes from the East Berlin police who waved them on after they showed their passports.

"Friendly, not antagonistic at all. Nice and sort of fun," Nancy recalled in describing the Communist police.

And the girls had a wonderful time at the opera, they said. The Soviet tanks didn't pull up until shortly after they left for the Western zone. Newsmen at the border gave them their first word of how close they came to getting caught in a traffic jam.

It was their second sightseeing foray into the Communist zone of the day. The first trip over was to buy tickets.

The sisters are studying French in Paris and came to Germany last weekend in a rented car. As tourists, they were not involved in the official U.S. ban which prohibits American government personnel from producing identification at the demand of East German border guards.

U.S. Planes Said Now Carrying 50 Megatons

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—Rep. J.T. Rutherford, D-Tex., said Thursday B52 bombers are carrying atomic bomb loads of 50 megatons that "they can drop any time at any place."

In Washington, the Pentagon would not reveal what nuclear power the B52 carriers and said it never discloses the yield of U.S. nuclear weapons.

U.N. Committee OKs Halt of Tests

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Political Committee today approved an Asian-African demand for a quick vote on an appeal to all countries to halt all nuclear bomb tests now.

The vote was on a move by Ethiopia to suspend the nuclear debate temporarily to permit priority action on a six-nation moratorium resolution.

The vote was 44-22 with 29 abstaining. The United States and the other Western powers voted against the Ethiopian motion. The Soviet bloc abstained.

The move was launched in the committee a few hours before the General Assembly itself was scheduled to act on an appeal to the Soviet Union to cancel its scheduled explosion of a 50-megaton bomb.

The assembly was expected to give overwhelming approval to the appeal to the Kremlin to halt the 50-megaton bomb detonation.

The assembly announced it would take up the eight-nation resolution containing the appeal as soon as it acts on a Security Council recommendation to admit Outer Mongolia and Mauritania as the U.N.'s 102nd and 103rd members.

Faced with the month-end deadline announced by Soviet Premier Khrushchev for triggering the giant bomb, the sponsors mapped out strategy to counter delaying tactics such as the Soviet bloc and some neutrals used to stall the vote in the political committee.

The committee approved the resolution Wednesday by a vote of 75-10, but only after a stormy overtime session in which a parade of Communist and neutral delegates fought it every step of the way.

The assembly vote was expected to be still stronger than that in the committee. Nigeria and El Salvador, two of the 15 members absent during the committee balloting indicated they would cast yes votes today.

Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin has made plain the Kremlin will reject the appeal. He told the committee that maneuvers by the NATO nations would not prevent the Soviet Union from perfecting its defenses.

The political committee continued its nuclear test debate Thursday with the United States accusing India of trying to put it in the same boat with the Soviet Union as far as violation of the moratorium on nuclear tests was concerned.

U.S. Delegate Arthur Dean asserted that India's attitude sounded much like that of Khrushchev who has declared that American actions in Berlin forced Moscow to resume testing to build up its defenses.

Former U.S. Envoy Handed Guilty Verdict

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former U.S. diplomat Irvin C. Scarbeck was convicted today of revealing American Embassy secrets to Polish Communist agents.

The federal court jury of 11 men and one woman returned the verdict only half an hour after starting its third day of deliberations.

The jury found the 41-year-old Scarbeck guilty on the first three counts of the four-count indictment. It found him innocent on the fourth count, which concerned the physical removal of a classified document from a public office, namely, the American Embassy in Warsaw, Poland.

Scarbeck, a stocky bespectacled man, betrayed no emotion as he stood erect to face the jury and hear the verdict.

The jury deliberated 15½ hours since receiving the case Wednesday morning. The trial took 3½ weeks, and, for the last two weeks, the jury had been locked up to prevent its being influenced by news reports of the trial.

In a signed statement for FBI agents, Scarbeck admitted giving the information to the Poles. He said he deliberately distorted the documents he was accused of orally passing on.

Scarbeck was pictured in testimony as having been blackmailed by the agents when they caught him in bed with a Polish woman, Ursula Discher.

He could be imprisoned up to 33 years and fined up to $32,000.

Reds Say 72,000 Agents Now Working for U.S.

MOSCOW (AP)—The chief of the Soviet security police says the United States has 72,000 agents around the world and "the Soviet Union and the Socialist countries are the main targets."

Alexander Shelepin, the security chief, told the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress Thursday the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency spends $3 billion a year and has 40,000 agents. He asserted the U.S. State Department has an additional 32,000.

Fallout Cloud Heads for U.S.

Northwestern States Alerted for Saturday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The jet air stream that may be bearing radioactive debris from the Soviet Union's superbomb explosion of last Monday appeared today to be headed into a rainy area of the U.S. Northwest.

A Weather Bureau spokesman said the amount of radioactivity wouldn't be much higher than that after other big Soviet nuclear tests.

The Weather Bureau estimated that the suspected fallout cloud would cross the coast over Washington and Oregon Saturday morning.

Depending upon wind shifts and the width of the cloud itself, the cloud might also reach Northern California and Nevada, and on the northern edge might pass over southernmost Canada.

Lester Machta and Robert List, Weather Bureau fallout experts, said the forecast is for rain in Oregon and Idaho.

This would mean that some of the debris in the fallout cloud might be brought to earth in the rainy area. There was a possibility that the rain zone would be west of Washington, so that that state might experience little or no fallout.

The jet stream believed to be carrying the nuclear cloud eastward was moving at 100 to 150 miles an hour.

The bureau experts were anxious to avoid arousing alarm unnecessarily in the area traversed by the jet stream.

"We don't think the levels of radioactivity will be significantly higher in the Northwest than they have been after other major Soviet bomb tests," Machta said.

"Most of the debris went into the stratosphere and will not come to earth for months. Only a little peeled off into the troposphere (air layer below the stratosphere), and it is unlikely that the radiation measurements will be frightening."

2 Ships Set Afire By Headon Crash

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two ocean freighters burst into flames Thursday after colliding north of here in heavy fog.

The stricken vessels, the Hoegh Cape of Norway and the Waitemata of New Zealand churned in San Francisco Bay under their own power but still aflame Thursday night.

Both vessels were permitted to dock as Coast Guard and San Francisco fire fighting units helped bring the fires under control.

No injuries were reported among the freighters' 101 crewmen.

The Hoegh Cape, a 495-foot, 9,191-ton vessel, suffered a gash 80 feet long and 20 feet wide in her starboard bow.

The Waitemata, a 441-foot 7,364-ton vessel, had a 15-foot long, 4-foot wide hole in its bow.

U.S. TANKS MOVE UP—U.S. tanks roll through Friedrichstrasse toward the Russian checkpoint to back up a jeep escort for an American auto entering East Berlin. The escort convoyed the car, with two civilians, past Communist guards. When the Red guards delayed the vehicle's return, the jeep sped back into East Berlin to retrieve it.

Cleric Believes It's Wrong To Say God Backs Only West

WASHINGTON (AP)—A prominent Protestant said today that while "we are opposed to communism as a faith and as an ideology and as a political system," it is a "covert idolatry" to assume that God is always on the West's side in the cold war.

The Rev. John C. Bennett, dean of the faculty of the Union Theological Seminary, New York City, made his comments in a speech for the 34th annual conference of the Catholic Association for International Peace.

Speaking of possible success against communism, the seminary dean said: "The fact that the United States is a status quo nation, fearful of radical change and influenced by a large body of opinion that is still committed to an uncritical capitalistic ideology is one of the greatest obstacles to the success of the Free World in upholding its own against communism."

"The utterly self-defeating character of the intransigent forms of conservative anticommunism in this country is amazing to contemplate," Dr. Bennett said.

Dr. Bennett said that "as a Protestant" he hoped the encyclical of Pope John XXIII on July 14 about wealthy nations helping backward nations "will help to change the American mind at this point." Dr. Bennett was ordained a Congregationalist.

In stating that it should not be assumed that God is always on the West's side, Dr. Bennett said: "It is our temptation to assume that, because our opponents are atheists, God must be on our side, and to overlook the extent to which communism itself is a judgment upon the sins and failures of the middle class world, upon the Christian world."

"The very atheism of communism is a judgment upon the churches which for so long were unconcerned about the victims of the industrial revolution and early capitalism and which have usually been ornaments of the status quo, no matter how unjust it has been."

Dr. Bennett added: "The temptation to turn the cold war into a holy crusade is ever with us and in so far as we yield to it we make impossible the tolerance and humaneness which must yet come into international relations if there is to be a future for mankind."

Dr. Bennett differed with those who would rule out coexistence with communism. "Their view of the cold war," he said, "will most certainly lead to hot war and to the nuclear catastrophe which will add to the victims of tyranny scores and perhaps hundreds of millions of new victims."

Midwest Chilled By New Cold Front

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cold air which chilled the Midwest and parts of the Northeast dipped into sections of the South today, dropped temperatures to lowest marks of the season.

The freezing weather extended as far south as northern sections of Alabama and Mississippi and also covered areas in Tennessee and Kentucky.

Lowest readings of the season also were reported in Midwest areas. It was below freezing in Northern Illinois areas, including Chicago. The cold Canadian air spread across the Western Great Lakes, dropping temperatures into the 20s.

Huge 8-Engine Saturn Soars 95 Miles High

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)

Saturn, the world's largest space rocket, scored a notable success on its maiden flight today and gave new impetus to America's drive to land astronauts on the moon this decade.

It was a tremendous demonstration by a rocket which prelaunch calculations had given only 30 per cent chance of complete success.

With its massive eight-engine power plant generating 1.3 million pounds of thrust, the Saturn thundered away from Cape Canaveral at 10:06 a.m. EST, spewing a tremendous tail of fire and sending an unearthly roar rolling across the test center.

With almost unbelievable precision, the eight engines pushed the 162-foot rocket, which is larger than the Statue of Liberty, approximately the 95 miles high to the edge of space. Then the rocket plunged back to the Atlantic Ocean and sank as planned more than 200 miles southeast of the launch pad.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported the entire flight covered about eight minutes and the spent booster impacted within 10 kilometers, or about 6 miles, of its intended landing point.

Only the first stage was tested today. Two dummy upper stages were filled with water for ballast. The historic flight, although brief, signaled America's intention to race Russia to the moon, a pledge made earlier this year by President Kennedy.

The Saturn is three times more powerful than any previous rocket launched by the United States and tops the estimated one million pound thrust of the Soviet space rockets. The success of America's

U.S. Sisters Breeze into East Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Two attractive young American red-haired sisters breezed into East Berlin in a little red car for a night at the opera. They got out only minutes before Soviet tanks lumbered into position near the Communist opera house.

"What a panic," giggled Mary Barber, 19, surprised at all the border fuss on their return to the U.S. checkpoint Thursday night.

Mary and her sister Nancy, 22, from Joliet, Ill., went into the Communist zone to catch a performance of Handel's "Ezio." They got salutes from the East Berlin police who waved them on after they showed their passports.

"Friendly, not antagonistic at all. Nice and sort of fun," Nancy recalled in describing the Communist police.

And the girls had a wonderful time at the opera, they said. The Soviet tanks didn't pull up until shortly after they left for the Western zone. Newsmen at the border gave them their first word of how close they came to getting caught in a traffic jam.

It was their second sightseeing foray into the Communist zone of the day. The first trip over was to buy tickets.

The sisters are studying French in Paris and came to Germany last weekend in a rented car. As tourists, they were not involved in the official U.S. ban which prohibits American government personnel from producing identification at the demand of East German border guards.

U.S. Planes Said Now Carrying 50 Megatons

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—Rep. J.T. Rutherford, D-Tex., said Thursday B52 bombers are carrying atomic bomb loads of 50 megatons that "they can drop any time at any place."

In Washington, the Pentagon would not reveal what nuclear power the B52 carriers and said it never discloses the yield of U.S. nuclear weapons.

U.N. Committee OKs Halt of Tests

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

The U.N. Political Committee today approved an Asian-African demand for a quick vote on an appeal to all countries to halt all nuclear bomb tests now.

The vote was on a move by Ethiopia to suspend the nuclear debate temporarily to permit priority action on an six-nation moratorium resolution.

The vote was 44-22 with 29 abstaining.

The United States and the other Western powers voted against the Ethiopian motion. The Soviet bloc abstained.

The move was launched in the committee a few hours before the General Assembly itself was scheduled to act on an appeal to the Soviet Union to cancel its scheduled explosion of a 50-megaton bomb.

The assembly was expected to give overwhelming approval to the appeal to the Kremlin to halt the 50-megaton bomb detonation.

The assembly announced it would take up the eight-nation resolution containing the appeal as soon as it acts on a Security Council recommendation to admit Outer Mongolia and Mauritania as the U.N.'s 102nd and 103rd members.

Faced with the month-end deadline announced by Soviet Premier Khrushchev for triggering the giant bomb, the sponsors mapped out strategy to counter delaying tactics such as the Soviet bloc and some neutrals used to stall the vote in the political committee.

The committee approved the resolution Wednesday by a vote of 75-10, but only after a stormy overtime session in which a parade of Communist and neutral delegates fought it every step of the way.

The assembly vote was expected to be still stronger than that in the committee. Nigeria and El Salvador, two of the 15 members absent during the committee ballot indicated they would cast yes votes today.

Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin has made plain the Kremlin would reject the appeal. He told the committee that maneuvers by the NATO nations would not prevent the Soviet Union from perfecting its defenses.

The political committee continued its nuclear test debate Thursday with the United States accusing India of trying to put it in the same boat with the Soviet Union as far as violation of the moratorium on nuclear tests was concerned.

U.S. Delegate Arthur Dean asserted that India's attitude sounded much like that of Khrushchev who has declared that American actions in Berlin forced Moscow to resume testing to build up its defenses.

Former U.S. Envoy Handed Guilty Verdict

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former U.S. diplomat Irvin C. Scarbeck was convicted today of revealing American Embassy secrets to Polish Communist agents.

The federal court jury of 11 men and one woman returned the verdict only half an hour after starting its third day of deliberations.

The jury found the 41-year-old Scarbeck guilty on the first three counts of the four-count indictment. It found him innocent on the fourth count, which concerned the physical removal of a classified document from a public office, namely, the American Embassy in Warsaw, Poland.

Scarbeck, a stocky bespectacled man, betrayed no emotion as he stood erect to face the jury and hear the verdict.

The jury deliberated 15½ hours since receiving the case Wednesday morning. The trial took 3½ weeks, and, for the last two weeks, the jury had been locked up to prevent its being influenced by news reports of the trial.

In a signed statement for FBI agents, Scarbeck admitted giving the information to the Poles. He said he deliberately distorted the documents he was accused of orally passing on.

Scarbeck was pictured in testimony as having been blackmailed by the agents when they caught him in bed with a Polish woman, Ursula Discher.

He could be imprisoned up to 33 years and fined up to $32,000.

Reds Say 72,000 Agents Now Working for U.S.

MOSCOW (AP)—The chief of the Soviet security police says the United States has 72,000 agents around the world and "the Soviet Union and the Socialist countries are the main targets."

Alexander Shelepin, the security chief, told the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress Thursday the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency spends $3 billion a year and has 40,000 agents. He asserted the U.S. State Department has an additional 32,000.

Fallout Cloud Heads for U.S.

Northwestern States Alerted for Saturday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The jet air stream that may be bearing radioactive debris from the Soviet Union's superbomb explosion of last Monday appeared today to be headed into a rainy area of the U.S. Northwest.

A Weather Bureau spokesman said the amount of radioactivity wouldn't be much higher than that after other big Soviet nuclear tests.

The Weather Bureau estimated that the suspected fallout cloud would cross the coast over Washington and Oregon Saturday morning.

Depending upon wind shifts and the width of the cloud itself, the cloud might also reach Northern California and Nevada, and on the northern edge might pass over southernmost Canada.

Lester Machta and Robert List, Weather Bureau fallout experts, said the forecast is for rain in Oregon and Idaho.

This would mean that some of the debris in the fallout cloud might be brought to earth in the rainy area. There was a possibility that the rain zone would be west of Washington, so that that state might experience little or no fallout.

The jet stream believed to be carrying the nuclear cloud eastward was moving at 100 to 150 miles an hour.

The bureau experts were anxious to avoid arousing alarm unnecessarily in the area traversed by the jet stream.

"We don't think the levels of radioactivity will be significantly higher in the Northwest than they have been after other major Soviet bomb tests," Machta said.

"Most of the debris went into the stratosphere and will not come to earth for months. Only a little peeled off into the troposphere (air layer below the stratosphere), and it is unlikely that the radiation measurements will be frightening."

2 Ships Set Afire By Headon Crash

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two ocean freighters burst into flames Thursday after colliding north of here in heavy fog.

The stricken vessels, the Hoegh Cape of Norway and the Waitemata of New Zealand churned into San Francisco Bay under their own power but still aflame Thursday night.

Both vessels were permitted to dock as Coast Guard and San Francisco fire fighting units helped bring the fires under control.

No injuries were reported among the freighters' 101 crewmen.

The Hoegh Cape, a 495-foot, 9,191-ton vessel, suffered a gash 8 feet long and 20 feet wide in her starboard bow.

Huge 8-Engine

first heavyweight rocket will give added emphasis to this nation's goal of placing a three-man Apollo spaceship on the moon, hopefully by 1967.

Nine more Saturn research shots are scheduled. By 1964, the operational two-stage configuration is slated to be ready to hoist the manned Apollo craft into earth orbit. By 1966, an advanced three to four-million pound thrust Saturn should be geared to whirl Apollo and its three-man crew into lunar orbit.

Manned landings on the moon will be accomplished with the 12- to 20-million-pound-thrust Nova rocket, whose development depends greatly on the Saturn program.

There were very few who expected such overwhelming success today. Dr. Kurt Debus, head of NASA's launch operations and top man in the launch control center today, said before the shot that he would consider 60 seconds of flight time "10 per cent success, with anything above that 150 per cent."

Richard B. Canright, a Saturn project official, told newsmen in a pre-launch briefing that the rocket had a 30 per cent chance of complete success, with a 70 to 80 per cent chance of achieving principal objectives which were ignition of the eight-engine cluster and lift-off of the 462-ton vehicle.

NASA reported the four in-board engines burned today for 109 seconds. The four outboard engines, which are movable to help control flight, burned for 115 seconds. Both figures were within two seconds of the intended time.

Local Students To Study Ways Of Communism

Eight Circleville High School students will be made dramatically aware of the dangers of organized political Communism this weekend during the Ohio Youth for America convention Sunday and Monday at Greenfield McClain High School.

The group, accompanied by CHS faculty members Mary Walters and Jack Weikert, will hear noted author and anti-communist lecturer John Noble make two major addresses on the menace of the Soviet way of life.

Noble's book, "I Was a Slave in Russia," will be the source material for panel discussions emphasizing the theme, "A Better America Begins With Me!" The convention's major purpose is to create and maintain in American young people an appreciation of what makes America great and an awareness of what must be done to make it greater.

Films and musical entertainment are also on the agenda. Representing the local high school are seniors John Adkins, Brian Bell, Stephanie Marion, Martha Samuel and James Spalding. Juniors attending the session from here will be William Clifton, Carolyn Walters and Edward Wright.

Students Aid Hunt For Slayer's Truck

BELLEVIEW, Ill. (AP)—Teams of 10 to 12 Catholic High School boys worked in shifts Thursday, pouring over lists of 250,000 vehicle licenses in an effort to find a truck that may have been driven by a murderer.

The students volunteered to help the Madison County sheriff investigate Saturday's fatal slayings of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Slater.

Authorities reported a red truck was seen near the Peter home about the time of the slayings. The students heard about the big registration checking job and offered their services.

They expected to complete the job today.

Five Arrested For Gas Theft

Four Hocking County men and a 17-year-old area juvenile apprehended yesterday by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department were charged today with stealing gasoline.

Arrested were Gary Obinger, 18, Route 1, Rockbridge; Donald Kline, 19, Gibsonville; John Bailey, 18, Route 1, Rockbridge; Kenneth Hettiger, 21, Route 2, Logan; and the local juvenile.

The four men were released yesterday on a $60 bond each, set down by Municipal Judge Sterling Lamb. The juvenile is still in custody pending a hearing.

A Circleville Municipal Court preliminary hearing is scheduled for 10 a. m. Tuesday for the four men released on bond.

DEPUTY Sheriff Neal Childress said the gas theft occurred on the Harold Pontius farm, about two miles east of Circleville on Route 22.

Deputy Childress said when he arrived at the scene the juvenile was sitting in a parked auto. The four men were draining gasoline from four tractors in a field, he added.

Pontius aided in the apprehension. Two were captured near the tractors and the other two darted through a corn field, but were later apprehended on Route 22 near the Pontius residence.

Pontius identified the juvenile as an employee at his farm. The Route 4 farmer also signed the affidavits charging the five with petty larceny.

Soviets . . .

The Russians must play their role in the four-power status of Berlin. The appearance of the Soviet tanks could, in the view of some Westerners, indicate that the Russians were not prepared to let the crisis get too hot.

The Soviet tanks moved in as the East German regime accused American troops of border provocations and warned in a note to the United States that their "allies" were a danger to peace.

Slipping into the city quietly, the Soviet tanks halted only a few blocks from the Friedrichstrasse border checkpoint where East Germany demands that American civilians traveling into East Berlin show identification.

Witnesses counted a dozen Soviet tanks with Soviet crews parked amid the bomb ruins of the palace of Emperor Wilhelm the First. Soviet and East German guards shooed away the curious.

A private Western intelligence source reported that at least 30 tanks had arrived in what marked the first appearance of Soviet armor in the heart of East Berlin since they helped crush the 1953 anti-Communist revolt there.

The U.S. Patton tanks bivouacked in the midtown borough of Kreuzberg, close by the crossing point into Communist East Berlin. They were readily available to help drive home the U.S. contention that Americans have war-won rights to enter the Red sector without showing identification papers to East German police.

Three British Centurion tanks moved up today to a point about half a mile west of the Brandenburg Gate, West Berlin police reported.

The British earlier pulled up three antitank guns opposite the gate, the most direct route into the Western sector from where the Soviet tanks halted. Two British armored cars and an armored personnel carrier also arrived.

Ashville Kiwanians Presented Plea for More Positive Life
"Now is the time for every single American to be for something", Oscar L. Fleckner, prominent Columbus businessman declared in a strongly worded declaration of principle presented to members of the newly organized Ashville Kiwanis Club Tuesday night.

Fleckner, challenging Kiwanians to a "more positive way of American life," stated the best way to support the ideal of a better world was to affiliate and actively support one of the two major political parties in the United States.

The speaker asked for more continued support of positive hopes in the face of "too many antiisms". He reviewed the material progress of the U. S. and added the constitutional type of government here created a favorable climate for the development of human and economic resources.

first heavyweight rocket will give added emphasis to this nation's goal of placing a three-man Apollo spaceship on the moon, hopefully by 1967.

Nine more Saturn research shots are scheduled. By 1964, the operational two-stage configuration is slated to be ready to hoist the manned Apollo craft into earth orbit. By 1966, an advanced three to four-million pound thrust Saturn should be geared to whirl Apollo and its three-man crew into lunar orbit.

Manned landings on the moon will be accomplished with the 12- to 20-million-pound-thrust Nova rocket, whose development depends greatly on the Saturn program.

There were very few who expected such overwhelming success today. Dr. Kurt Debus, head of NASA's launch operations and top man in the launch control center today, said before the shot that he would consider 60 seconds of flight time "10 per cent success, with anything above that 150 per cent."

Richard B. Canright, a Saturn project official, told newsmen in a pre-launch briefing that the rocket had a 30 per cent chance of complete success, with a 70 to 80 per cent chance of achieving principal objectives which were ignition of the eight-engine cluster and lift-off of the 462-ton vehicle.

NASA reported the four in-board engines burned today for 109 seconds. The four outboard engines, which are movable to help control flight, burned for 115 seconds. Both figures were within two seconds of the intended time.

Local Students To Study Ways Of Communism

Eight Circleville High School students will be made dramatically aware of the dangers of organized political Communism this weekend during the Ohio Youth for America convention Sunday and Monday at Greenfield McClain High School.

The group, accompanied by CHS faculty members Mary Walters and Jack Weikert, will hear noted author and anti-communist lecturer John Noble make two major addresses on the menace of the Soviet way of life.

Noble's book, "I Was a Slave in Russia," will be the source material for panel discussions emphasizing the theme, "A Better America Begins With Me!" The convention's major purpose is to create and maintain in American young people an appreciation of what makes America great and an awareness of what must be done to make it greater.

Films and musical entertainment are also on the agenda. Representing the local high school are seniors John Adkins, Brian Bell, Stephanie Marion, Martha Samuel and James Spalding. Juniors attending the session from here will be William Clifton, Carolyn Walters and Edward Wright.

The Russians must play their role in the four-power status of Berlin. The appearance of the Soviet tanks could, in the view of some Westerners, indicate that the Russians were not prepared to let the crisis get too hot.

The Soviet tanks moved in as the East German regime accused American troops of border provocations and warned in a note to the United States that their "allies" were a danger to peace.

Slipping into the city quietly, the Soviet tanks halted only a few blocks from the Friedrichstrasse border checkpoint where East Germany demands that American civilians traveling into East Berlin show identification.

Witnesses counted a dozen Soviet tanks with Soviet crews parked amid the bomb ruins of the palace of Emperor Wilhelm the First. Soviet and East German guards shooed away the curious.

A private Western intelligence source reported that at least 30 tanks had arrived in what marked the first appearance of Soviet armor in the heart of East Berlin since they helped crush the 1953 anti-Communist revolt there.

The U.S. Patton tanks bivouacked in the midtown borough of Kreuzberg, close by the crossing point into Communist East Berlin. They were readily available to help drive home the U.S. contention that Americans have war-won rights to enter the Red sector without showing identification papers to East German police.

Three British Centurion tanks moved up today to a point about half a mile west of the Brandenburg Gate, West Berlin police reported.

The British earlier pulled up three antitank guns opposite the gael, the most direct route into the Western sector from where the Soviet tanks halted. Two British armored cars and an armored personnel carrier also arrived.

Ashville Kiwanians Presented Plea for More Positive Life

"Now is the time for every single American to be for something," Oscar L. Fleckner, prominent Columbus businessman declared in a strongly worded declaration of principle presented to members of the newly organized Ashville Kiwanis Club Tuesday night.

Fleckner, challenging Kiwanians to a "more positive way of American life," stated the best way to support the ideal of a better world was to affiliate and actively support one of the two major political parties in the United States.

The speaker asked for more continued support of positive hopes in the face of "too many antiisms." He reviewed the material progress of the U. S. and added the constitutional type of government here created a favorable climate for the development of human and economic resources.

Farm Income Hike Limited To U.S. Aid

Actual Cash Take Appears To Be Below Levels of Year Ago

WASHINGTON (AP) —Government reports showed today that increases in farm returns so far this year under Kennedy administration programs have been limited largely to bigger government payments to producers.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has predicted that net farm income this year will be fully $1 billion more than last year $11.7 billion. Net income is the amount farm operators have left after paying production costs.

So far, the only measurement of farm returns this year have been reports on cash receipts from sale of crops and livestock and livestock products. During the January-August period, these receipts totaled $23.2 billion. This was only about $280 million more than in the like period last year.

However, virtually all this increase came in January, the last month of the Eisenhower administration. Since early spring, cash receipts have run below levels of a year ago, reflecting somewhat lower average prices and a decline in volume of marketings. During the first two months of this year, cash receipts were up nearly $50 million from a year ago.

There are no figures available showing how much of the cash receipts must be charged to costs. Such figures are not determined until after the end of the year. However, farm costs have been running just a little higher than a year ago.

Government payments to farmers for complying with farm programs totaled $693 million last year. A new feed grain program designed to cut down on surplus production of corn and sorghum grain is expected to add roughly $750 million to such payments this year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today consumer supplies of fruits from early fall through the first half of 1962 are expected to be larger than in the like period a year earlier.

Factors were said to include favorable crops this year and larger carryover stocks of frozen fruit products.

"Consumer demand for fruit, supported by rising incomes, is expected to be strong again in 1962," the department said in a fruit situation report.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation may be scraping the bottom of the bin for durum wheat before next year's harvest. Durum wheat is used to make macaroni, spaghetti and similar products.

The Agriculture Department today estimated the total supply of durum wheat for the marketing year ending in mid-1962 at 21 million bushels. Domestic and export needs were put at 29 million bushels. Much of the remaining 2 million bushels would be tied up in food processing and storage pipelines.

By comparison, this marketing year's supply of hard wheat—the kind used mainly in making bread—totals 2,207,000,000 bushels. Domestic and export requirements were forecast at 909 million bushels, leaving a possible reserve and surplus of 1,298,000 bushels.

Economy Goals To Be Aided By Parleys

WASHINGTON (AP) — Regular conferences of top civilian and government leaders to chart annual goals for the entire American economy soon will be proposed to President Kennedy by his labor-management advisers.

The idea is to suggest limits and guidelines in such sectors as government spending, business investment and profits and wages and prices, in the hope the recommendations will be followed to insure stability and steady growth.

The plan is to put more persuasiveness behind the "hold the line" appeals voiced by Kennedy and his recent presidential predecessors while still avoiding a controlled economy.

While everyone would remain free to make his own economic decisions, it is felt that all would be somewhat more morally bound to act responsibly within the publicly stated economic goals.

The proposal for such annual goal-setting conferences is understood to be contained in a draft report of the wage-price subcommittee of Kennedy's Labor-Management Advisory Committee.

It is one of several sets of recommendations due to be submitted to Kennedy when the 21-man advisory group, made up of public, business and labor representatives, meets here again late next month.

Quota System Opposition Hit

Dismissal Is Asked Of High Court Suit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mental Hygiene Director Robert A. Haines has asked the Ohio Supreme Court to dismiss an action challenging a quota system for admissions to industrial schools at Lancaster and Delaware.

The high court gave Hamilton County Juvenile Court Judge Benjamin S. Schwartz 15 days to reply to Haines' request.

Schwartz had obtained a court order requiring Haines to accept commitment of a Cincinnati juvenile or show adequate reason for state refusal to do so.

Haines filed an answer asserting that statute does not require him to accept commitments to overcrowded juvenile institutions. The director also said a freeze and quota system on admissions imposed last Aug. 15 was the only solution for overcrowding at the two institutions.

The freeze, ordered by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle since has been lifted at the girls' school near Delaware but remains at the Lancaster Boys' School.

Haines said in his answer that Schwartz should have brought a mandamus action in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court against county commissioners, who are required by law to provide finances for juvenile court operations.

Haines added that Schwartz as juvenile court judge "is armed presently with full authority to require that funds be made available from his own county and from other sources."

Haines' office said the population at the Lancaster school is down to 568 inmates and that an end to the freeze is in sight.

Letters have gone out to eight counties that nine juvenile commitments will be accepted at the Juvenile Diagnostic Center in Columbus next week for classification and possible transfer to Lancaster.

Haines said previously the freeze on admissions to Lancaster would be lifted after the population reached 500 for which the school originally was constructed. As many as 1,000 inmates have been crowded into the school in the past Haines added.

Hoffa Again Loses Bid To Block NLRB Election

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Teamsters Union has failed again to block an election among 2,000 milk and ice cream drivers seeking to bolt Cincinnati Teamsters Local 98 and form their own union under an AFL-CIO charter.

U.S. District Court Judge Alexander Holtzoff ruled Thursday his court did not have jurisdiction in the collective bargaining election ordered by the National Labor Relations Board for next Tuesday. Teamsters Union chief James R. Hoffa indicated the ruling would be taken to the Circuit Court of Appeals before Tuesday's deadline.

The urgency of this year's Diabetes Detection Drive is indicated by the growing prevalence of the ailment. There are now in this country 2,750,000 diabetics, nearly half of whom are unknown, Dr. Kerns said.

Diabetes Week, sponsored nationally by the American Diabetes Association, is not a fund-raising campaign. Its two-fold purpose is to identify hidden diabetics and to acquaint all Americans with the symptoms of the condition.

While diabetes is on the rise, prompt detection and medical care almost always enable diabetics to lead normal lives. be near $89 billion, a peacetime record; that government income, or revenue, will be only about $82 billion; and that therefore the budget deficit will be around $7 billion.

Two good reasons make the budget opaque:

1. What goes into it—meaning what the President and his aides, and later Congress, think it is necessary to spend—is after all a matter of judgment.

That alone means disagreement. 2. The budget figures—the list of expenses the President thinks necessary and submits to Congress every year for approval—fill a volume as big as a metropolitan telephone directory.

No uninitiated man could understand it all. In fact, just five days ago a congressional committee complained the whole budget procedure is 40 years out of date and should be modernized.

When President Eisenhower ran deficits the Democrats quickly gave him what-for. And he had some beautiful, too.

One year it was $12.5 billion. For the fiscal year ending last June 30, President Kennedy announced in July, Eisenhower's deficit was $3.9 billion.

Now that Kennedy is running a deficit, the Republicans are returning the compliment. Eisenhower already has started banging away.

He not only recently criticized Kennedy's spending but added: "The state of confusion I now sense in Washington is like a tornado—on a spring day."

Democrats—but not Kennedy—promptly reminded him of that $12.5 billion deficit of his own. But after Kennedy goes into some detail in this weekend report there will be enough ammunition to keep the politicians shooting for months.

Meanwhile Kennedy has some ready explanations for his deficit: Getting the economy out of a tailspin, building up necessary defenses.

As if to take some of the edge off the Republican criticism he can expect after this weekend, Kennedy has done things like these:

He urged his Cabinet and agency heads to be frugal in spending and hold down the number of government workers "to the minimum consistent with getting the job done."

But his administration has promised a balanced budget next year. The Republicans will be highly skeptical, and probably will tell him so before he ever tells Congress next January what the next year's budget should be.

Farm Income Hike Limited To U.S. Aid

Actual Cash Take Appears To Be Below Levels of Year Ago

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government reports showed today that increases in farm returns so far this year under Kennedy administration programs have been limited largely to bigger government payments to producers.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has predicted that net farm income this year will be fully $1 billion more than last year $11.7 billion. Net income is the amount farm operators have left after paying production costs.

So far, the only measurement of farm returns this year have been reports on cash receipts from sale of crops and livestock and livestock products. During the January-August period, these receipts totaled $23.2 billion. This was only about $280 million more than in the like period last year.

However, virtually all this increase came in January, the last month of the Eisenhower administration. Since early spring, cash receipts have run below levels of a year ago, reflecting somewhat lower average prices and a decline in volume of marketings. During the first two months of this year, cash receipts were up nearly $50 million from a year ago.

There are no figures available showing how much of the cash receipts must be charged to costs. Such figures are not determined until after the end of the year. However, farm costs have been running just a little higher than a year ago.

Government payments to farmers for complying with farm programs totaled $693 million last year. A new feed grain program designed to cut down on surplus production of corn and sorghum grain is expected to add roughly $750 million to such payments this year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today consumer supplies of fruits from early fall through the first half of 1962 are expected to be larger than in the like period a year earlier.

Factors were said to include favorable crops this year and larger carryover stocks of frozen fruit products.

"Consumer demand for fruit, supported by rising incomes, is expected to be strong again in 1962," the department said in a fruit situation report.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation may be scraping the bottom of the bin for durum wheat before next year's harvest. Durum wheat is used to make macaroni, spaghetti and similar products.

The Agriculture Department today estimated the total supply of durum wheat for the marketing year ending in mid-1962 at 31 million bushels. Domestic and export needs were put at 29 million bushels. Much of the remaining 2 million bushels would be tied up in food processing and storage pipelines.

By comparison, this marketing year's supply of hard wheat—the kind used mainly in making bread—totals 2,207,000,000 bushels. Domestic and export requirements were forecast at 909 million bushels, leaving a possible reserve and surplus of 1,298,000 bushels.

Economy Goals To Be Aided By Parleys

WASHINGTON (AP) — Regular conferences of top civilian and government leaders to chart annual goals for the entire American economy soon will be proposed to President Kennedy by his labor-management advisers.

The idea is to suggest limits and guidelines in such sectors as government spending, business investment and profits and wages and prices, in the hope the recommendations will be followed to insure stability and steady growth.

The plan is to put more persuasiveness behind the "hold the line" appeals voiced by Kennedy and his recent presidential predecessors while still avoiding a controlled economy.

While everyone would remain free to make his own economic decisions, it is felt that all would be somewhat more morally bound to act responsibly within the publicly stated economic goals.

The proposal for such annual goal-setting conferences is understood to be contained in a draft report of the wage-price subcommittee of Kennedy's Labor-Management Advisory Committee.

It is one of several sets of recommendations due to be submitted to Kennedy when the 21-man advisory group, made up of public, business and labor representatives, meets here again late next month.

Quota System Opposition Hit

Dismissal Is Asked Of High Court Suit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mental Hygiene Director Robert A. Haines has asked the Ohio Supreme Court to dismiss an action challenging a quota system for admissions to industrial schools at Lancaster and Delaware.

The high court gave Hamilton County Juvenile Court Judge Benjamin S. Schwartz 15 days to reply to Haines' request.

Schwartz had obtained a court order requiring Haines to accept commitment of a Cincinnati juvenile or show adequate reason for state refusal to do so.

Haines filed an answer asserting that statute does not require him to accept commitments to overcrowded juvenile institutions. The director also said a freeze and quota system on admissions lifted last Aug. 15 was the only solution for overcrowding at the two institutions.

The freeze, ordered by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle since has been lifted at the girls' school near Delaware but remains at the Lancaster Boys' School.

Haines said in his answer that Schwartz should have brought a mandamus action in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court against county commissioners, who are required by law to provide finances for juvenile court operations.

Haines added that Schwartz as juvenile court judge "is armed presently with full authority to require that funds be made available from his own county and from other sources."

Haines' office said the population at the Lancaster school is down to 568 inmates and that an end to the freeze is in sight.

Letters have gone out to eight counties that nine juvenile commitments will be accepted at the Juvenile Diagnostic Center in Columbus next week for classification and possible transfer to Lancaster.

Haines said previously the freeze on admissions to Lancaster would be lifted after the population reached 500 for which the school originally was constructed. As many as 1,000 inmates have been crowded into the school in the past Haines added.

Hoffa Again Loses Bid To Block NLRB Election

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Teamsters Union has failed again to block an election among 2,000 milk and ice cream drivers seeking to bolt Cincinnati Teamsters Local 98 and form their own union under an AFL-CIO charter.

U.S. District Court Judge Alexander Holtzoff ruled Thursday his court did not have jurisdiction in the collective bargaining election ordered by the National Labor Relations Board for next Tuesday. Teamsters Union chief James R. Hoffa indicated the ruling would be taken to the Circuit Court of Appeals before Tuesday's deadline.

Yet, a brawl over it is building up between the politicians of both parties. It will get worse in the weeks ahead.

Diabetes Test Offered Here

What you don't know can hurt you! You may have diabetes and not know it, because the condition can exist in hidden form. Dr. V. D. Kerns, local chairman of the Diabetes Detection Drive explained today.

By taking the test for diabetes, you can detect the condition and thus avoid neglect, which can lead to serious complications, Dr. Kerns said.

Discovering these unknown cases of diabetes is the major purpose of the Detection Drive, sponsored by the Pickaway County Medical Society during Diabetes Week, November 12-18.

Time To Settle Down

An important business aid is the decision of the Treasury Department to allow textile companies to depreciate machinery for tax purposes in 15 years or less instead of 25 years as formerly.

This was in response to textile industry contention that more liberal allowances were required to enable plants to modernize to meet foreign competition. Among benefits will be increased orders for textile machinery and more jobs for workers.

The Treasury indicates that similar allowances will be made for other industries to stimulate business investment and expand the national economy at a more rapid rate.

Dollar Is Older, More Feeble

NEW YORK (AP)—Have you been noticing how feeble your money is lately?

It doesn't go so far. Money is like people. As it grows older, it doesn't seem able to do as much as it did when younger. And therefore it doesn't command the same respect from those around it.

The dollar bill is showing its age. It has lost a lot of cents. As long ago as the Truman administration the 100-cent dollar had declined to 54 cents.

Today the portrait of George Washington would have to undergo a real face-lifting job to get the dollar back up even to that level.

The erosion of money continues in small almost unnoticed ways and goes on, it seems, no matter what we do or who runs the government.

Every now and then something happens, however, to call it dramatically to our personal attention.

A few weeks ago, for example, I handed the bootblack in our office a quarter for a shoeshine, as I have for many years. He shook his head.

"It's 30 cents," he said. "Thirty cents for a shoeshine?" I asked, a bit dazed.

"Why not?" he replied. "The price of everything else has gone up. I gotta raise my price, too."

A few days ago I asked him if his 30-cent scale had cost him many customers.

"No," he said. "Why should it? Business is as good as ever. What's an extra nickel to most people?"

Well, to one man at least that extra nickel was a disillusioning experience in basic economics. I can distinctly remember when, if you paid 15 cents for a shoeshine, it gave you the feeling you were a real sport and something of a patron of the fine arts. Now at 30 cents I was barely meeting the going rate.

Even as long ago as the World War I era a vice president of the United States could murmur nostalgically: "What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar."

But at that time you could still get a pack of cigarettes for six cents, a five-cent glass of beer, and buy a good serviceable topcoat for less than a medium-

It has been apparent for some years that the percentage of the national product going into capital improvements of private industry is below that of most West European nations. As a result, the expansion of their economic base is at a more rapid pace than that of the U. S.

The obvious remedy was taxation revision permitting companies to keep more of their earnings for reinvestment. This is one phase of much-needed tax reform. As advantages of it become apparent, other steps should follow for invigoration of the private enterprise system which is America's economic strength.

By Hal Boyle

priced pair of shoes cost now.

Remember the $2 hotel room, the two-bit haircut, the nickel cup of coffee, the 15-cent shave, the penny postcard, the two-cent letter, the nickel hot dog, and the 15-cent ham and cheese sandwich?

Remember the heaping five-cent ice cream cone, the five-cent trolley car ride, the big nickel candy bar?

All these landmarks of lower-priced living stand out in the memory of the average middle-aged, middle-class American. He dreams of them sometime as he drives to work in a car that cost him four times as much as the car he drove in his youth.

The jingle of coins in his pocket used to be a satisfying sound. Now a jingle doesn't mean so much. There has to be the crisp crinkling sound of folding currency.

It makes a man a bit sad to realize that both he and money have grown older, and neither will ever quite be again what they used to be—for time invisibly wears down the value and promise of each.

LAFF-A-DAY

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

I'm always regular — why was I two weeks late last month and eight days early now?

Menstrual cycles are less regular than you think. Chart your own; you'll see!

Monthly regularity is delicately balanced by four different glands — the adrenal, thyroid, pituitary and ovary. A sluggish thyroid or adrenal can slow or stop menstruation.

Each month, a growing cell inside the ovary manufactures female hormones. When it leaves the ovary after two weeks, other cells produce another hormone — progesterone. As hormone production stops, menstrual flow begins.

Without egg cells to guide these changes, cycles range all over the calendar. No wonder those first and last years are so irregular!

Hormones from egg cells trapped inside ovaries turn the calendar into one long cycle. Menstrual regularity returns when the surgeon cuts out these trapped cells.

Any illness, from a sore throat to inflamed tubes, can change your rhythm. Thin, anemic blood stops menstrual flow because the body needs every last corpuscle. Curing these ailments cures irregularity!

Automatic nerves control most glands. And so nervous upset, fatigue from sudden exercise — addition and changing climates all trigger temporary irregularity. An overwhelming desire or dread of pregnancy can postpone menstrual flow for many months.

A regular routine — regular diet, regular habits, regular exercise — helps prevent irregularity. Sudden changes and nervous tension rarely affect more than one or two cycles.

You doctor may prescribe new progesterone — like pills. Ten daily doses during the second half of the cycle should trigger menstrual flow on schedule.

After a few months, regularity becomes a habit — even without pills.

Follow your doctor's instructions carefully. Progesterone's influence too early in the month keeps egg cells from growing.

In spite of all modern treatment, a growing cause of irregularity still lasts for months — until each new citizen makes his howling debut!

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

The Business World

Editor's note — Manufacturers are getting friendly with the service business. It's profitable and often promotes sales of their own goods. In this, last of three articles on the service industries, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, also tells how such a tie-in is good for the host communities.

Ohio Bar Office Slated To Move To New Quarters

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio State Bar Association will throw all its cases—filing cases, that is—out the window Saturday.

It will be moving day for the 81-year-old organization. The transfer from the Statehouse annex to the new Ohio Legal Center here will begin at the large third floor windows at the South Side of the annex.

Hugh scaffolding will be erected to remove office equipment supplies and other related items. The device seems more practical than carrying the furnishings through the buildings.

The recently completed legal center, adjoining Ohio State University, will also house the Ohio State Bar Association Foundation and the Ohio Legal Center, a new corporation which will conduct continuing legal education and research for the state legal profession.

Dedication of the building is scheduled for June 22, 1962.

The largest ant colonies are estimated to number a million or so inhabitants. The whole population would weigh about as much as a man.

Manufacturers wish you'd spend more of your income on their goods. But many others see in the service industries that are getting an ever larger share of your spending money a good market for their own wares.

And an increasing number of manufacturers and producers are getting into the service business themselves, either to share in the wealth or because of a connection between their goods and services.

Sometimes the connection seems way out—like Montgomery Ward and Sears, Roebuck mail order and retail chains offering package travel tours. Sometimes the connection is obvious—like General Motors and Ford subsidiaries financing dealer sales of autos on the installment plan. Sometimes it's a wedding of convenience—like that between makers of consumer goods that sell on the installment plan and insurers of the debtor's life.

Often manufacturers get involved in the service industries as the best way to promote use of their products.

Appliance makers have been making a good thing out of laundry and dry cleaning centers, some by furnishing the machines for independent service firms, some by setting up their own chains of coin-operated devices for the serve-yourself minded.

Standard, Inc., Little Rock, Ark., began selling dry cleaning machines nearly two years ago. Norge has several thousand in operation. A. I. D., distributes Westinghouse machines. Philco is starting its own chain. Whirlpool is putting dry cleaning machines in some American Oil Co. service stations.

The fast growing recreation has put manufacturers of sporting equipment knee deep in the promotion of such things as bowling alleys, skiing and other resorts, company — sponsored amateur teams and leagues of all sorts.

Cosmetic makers set up their own beauty salons and chains and health ranches — some with a celebrity clientele.

Electronic companies, like International Business Machines, Remington Rand and General Electric, find the services offered centers is good business, as well as that from large companies that can buy or rent the big machines full time.

Makers of trucks and all sorts of factory equipment have found doing business with leasing companies, independent or subsidiary, to their advantage.

Rapid expansion of the school-age population, a bonanza for publishers of text books, has put some makers of school supplies in the service business. Some 32,000 vending machines now service schools in 33 states with notebooks, pens, typing paper and the like.

The increase in leisure time—whether at home or on the road—is attracting more business attention. To that end, Leisure Devices, Inc., is being set up for research, development, manufacture and distribution of labor and time saving products.

The company's aim is "To increase leisure by reducing radically the amount of time consumers as well as industry now must spend on mundane, nongratifying tasks."

Obligation To Intervene

The great Spanish historian, Salvador De Madariaga has written an article for the Mexican newspaper, "Excelsior," on the theme, "not to intervene against Castro is to intervene in his favor."

This is undoubtedly a correct historical postulate. Quite apart from the fact that it was an American policy to assist Castro before he seized power, this country has failed to do a single thing to protect its interests or its dignity vis-a-vis Cuba since Castro has come to power.

The defense of the policy of inaction can be that the United States will not permit Khrushchev to select the theater of the opening of the next war. Certainly we should prefer not to have that war start within 100 miles of American territory. If this is our strategy, then it is not unsound, but if our policy is based upon the assumption that we intervene against capitalist dictators but not against socialist of any kind, then we have erred.

The question arises as to how extensive a program should intervention be. Madariaga says:

"The rule that states must not interfere in the internal affairs of other states has always been tacitly accepted as a matter of common sense. But how far was it respected in actual fact?"

Intervention has been usual throughout history, the United States justifying its interference in Latin America by the moralistic Monroe Doctrine. Madariaga cites as an example of automatic intervention this example:

"Now-a-days, even those events that seem most strictly national may reveal themselves world wide in their import. The general election that brought Hitler to power was a German internal enough (sic) event; it cost millions of dead to half the world outside of Germany."

Madariaga goes further to say: "The principle of non-intervention therefore, has collapsed under the mere pressure of the new solidarity which has made all of the nations one single world community. For this reason, intervention is inevitable — at any rate in fact, even when such a fact is not officially recognized. For instance, France, Britain and the U. S. A., having decided not to intervene in the Spanish civil war in favour of the Spanish Republic, and by the mere fact that they didn't, did actually intervene in favour of the rebels."

Or again, if the U. S. A. does not intervene in Cuba against Castro, it will in fact intervene passively in his favour and therefore, alongside China and the Soviet Union, which are intervening there actively."

There can be no question as to the logic of Madariaga's conclusions. Whereas Soviet Russia has developed a technique for intervening in the internal affairs of every nation by means of an indigenous political party, the Communist Party, which publicly establishes its loyalty to the Kremlin, the democratic countries have developed no technique save war.

In a word, the West has created no new method, no new concept, no new technique to meet the absolutely new and different method of the Soviet countries.

Most of the Soviet's success, particularly in a country like Cuba, may be attributed to the development of a new method of intervention through an indigenous political instrument. Neither Napoleon nor Hitler was able to develop what is tantamount to a permanent Fifth Column. Tallyrand was successful in corrupting governments in the interest of Napoleon, but Lenin and Stalin did not bother to corrupt governments. They intervened by penetrating governments; by succeeding in putting native Communists and fellow-travellers in advantageous positions.

By George Sokolsky

The technique of penetration by the Communists is brilliant and has best exhibited its power in Cuba, although Red China and East Germany are splendid examples of what can be done by fanatical native sons. Hitler attempted to establish a Bund in this country for purposes of intervention but he failed to recruit more than a small corps.

Soviet Russia now has as a base a country, a government, with a seat in the United Nations and with historic and traditional influence throughout Latin America. Soviet Russia at first attempted to establish such a base in the internal affairs of the United States in Mexico.

It does not matter, even slightly, whether Fidel Castro is an idealist or a scoundrel. What does matter is that the Soviet Union has established a base for intervention in the United States and that this country has adopted a policy of non-intervention at the wrong time and concerning the wrong place. The excuse is that we shall choose our own time and place. This is problematical because Soviet Russia is intervening everywhere, all the time, as a usual technique of the permanent revolution. Thus far, we have found no answer to the Russian method.

Ohio Solon Raps Food Sent to Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—A revolt against Castroism is being delayed by the sales of food from the U.S. to Cuba, Rep. Delbert Latta, R-Ohio, has charged.

"If these people are going to revolt they are going to do it because they have empty stomachs and are fed up with Castro," the congressman from Ohio's 5th District said, referring to recent shipments of red beans to Cuba.

Latta, a member of the special House committee investigating U.S. exports to Soviet Bloc countries, said he has received reports that food shortages in Cuba are contributing to the possibility of an anti-Castro uprising, "and then we step right in and sell them the main staple of their diet."

Guild No. 31 Slates Bazaar

Mrs. Jack White was hostess Wednesday evening to Berger Hospital Guild No. 31 in her home on Circle Drive.

Members worked on decorations and handmade gifts for the Christmas Bazaar which will be sponsored by the General Guild on November 17.

Mrs. Charles Thompson, guild chairman, announced that an all-day workshop will be held for guild members early in November at the home of Mrs. Robert Burton, Knollwood Village. Items for the Christmas Bazaar will be completed at that time.

DuPont Executive Guests Monday Club

When the Monday Club met Oct. 23, the main feature of the evening was a highly informative and entertaining lecture given by Mr. Charles P. DeNeef, quality control supervisor at the DuPont Company. His title was "A Word to the Wives", a personalized talk on the chemical industry as good neighbors.

In his speech, Mr. DeNeef emphasized the need for teamwork in the steps in industry as in other cooperative efforts in life. "Actually," he stated, "a large business is a team, for the product is born in the laboratory very often by team effort. The days of random searching are gone. In modern times a problem is approached by a research team consisting of a metallurgist, a physicist and probably a chemist. The product is then handed to the market research people who are another part of the industrial team. They study the possible sales potential of the product. Thus all departments must work together to solve the multiple problems facing industrial effort today. Similarly the sales organization must work with the others to provide their service to the ultimate goal of all — the satisfaction of the customer."

He further stated, "In order to succeed a product has to have three things: it must have a purpose, it must have quality and it must be reasonable. It is no coincidence that there also are characteristics needed by people. Quality is a characteristic to which we are all sensitive in a product. They have all become more complex; formerly we had things repaired easily, but now we have to take our complicated cars and appliances warily to others. More and more we must deal with people we do not know about things we do not understand. This makes quality

Mr. DeNeef went on to say, "A product must be reasonable. It must compete in the marketplace with dozens of other commodities, so we must constantly seek ways to make it efficient, reduce waste, and improve quality. This means that we must recognize motivation as a vital element in business, and that provides the basis for wages and more jobs."

"As products reach the commercial stage, they require plants in which to make them, people to run the plants and people to transport and sell the finished product. Thus do new products lead to new jobs. Very few of the products we make enter your home or your life in their original form. Ninety-five per cent of DuPont's entire sales consists of chemicals and chemical products sold to other manufacturers for further processing."

"In the industry and particularly in DuPont the products have led to the establishment of a number of small businesses — companies that came into existence because of new opportunities offered by these products. Cellophane is an outstanding example. Today, DuPont, one of three manufacturers, has about 6,000 customers, of which less than 100 are big companies; the rest are small businesses who developed new uses and new techniques for use."

"The chemical industry," Mr. DeNeef said, "as a whole gives direct employment to 800,000 men and women at more than 12,000 locations in every state in the Union. This industry produces a bewildering range of products from basic chemicals such as caustic soda, to drugs, vitamins, plastics, and man-made fibers. DuPont itself is a big company; it has 1200 product lines manufactured in some 78 plants in 28 states and yet, big as we may be regarded, our share of the business is only 8 per cent. The size of the company is related neither to dominance or to monopoly. Instead of seeking to be the biggest frog in the single pond it has sought the smaller places in a great many chemical ponds. This policy of growth by diversification has been deliberate, for we believe that in diversification there is both strength and

"Mylar" is an excellent example of this type of product. It owes its great market acceptance to these outstanding properties: physical strength, resistance to chemicals, and electrical insulating ability. It retains all these properties from -80°F. to 300°F. Its uses can be divided into five categories: 1) as a carrier, perhaps providing support for adhesives, carbon, paint, or even sound tape; 2) as a barrier, sealing out moisture or air or providing electrical insulation as in refrigerator walls; 3) as a surface, providing a transparent surface for bookbinders, designers, or decorators or even projection screens; as a container, packaging countless retail products that improve merchandizing service; and 5) structure-in which the film duplicates or improves structural characteristics of wood, metal and glass as it brings new thinness and corrosion resistance to a vast range of structures, such as Echo Satellite."

He concluded by saying, "Just as Mylar must have certain qualities if it is to succeed, so a man too must have certain qualities. We must get a long if we want to get ahead, and one of the hardest things is to see things from another's viewpoint. One way involves understanding people and getting to know the honest basic needs which we all naturally have. We do not have to approve and condone the mistakes people make but we must learn to distinguish between the person and the behavior. We can approve the first and disapprove the second. Life is better if we can practice this policy."

The president, Miss Mary K. May, introduced three new members who were Mrs. Jacques Sweetney, Mrs. John Beck and Mrs. George Sowers. During the short business meeting which followed, Miss Ruth Montelius was voted into the club.

Orient Chief Psychologist Speaker for AAUW Session

The Circleville Branch of AAUW held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. James Wilson, 170 Hillcrest Drive.

During the brief business meeting, at which Mrs. William Ford presided, Mrs. William Huber, program chairman, announced an organ recital scheduled for Nov. 28. Dr. Wilbur Held, head of the organ department at Ohio State University, will present the program which AAUW members are urged to bring their friends. Mrs. Huber introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. William M. Daly, chief psychologist at Orient State Institute.

Dr. Daly briefly outlined the history of Orient State Institute, stating that it was originally a satellite of Ohio State School. In 1898 the state legislature bought a tract of land near Orient, and the boys chopped down the trees and built a dormitory for themselves. He further stated "now the institution with its population of 3500 is almost a self-supporting community; it is more of a rehabilitation center than a hospital. It has all the services of other communities including a hospital, food centers, laundry, dairy, greenhouse, beauty shop, carpenter and repair shops and garage. All that it lacks now is a dry cleaning establishment. Originally there were not enough employees, so the patients helped; now with all these activities and diversified interests possible, opportunities can be given to the individual to do the particular kind of work for which he is best fitted. An effort is made to match the ability of the person to the job so that there will be satisfaction in the work effort."

"Industrial therapy," Dr. Daly said, "is work activity prescribed and administered for remedial and vocational needs, strives to train these patients in order that some may develop a skill and thus eventually become residents of a normal community. The goals of this program are definite: to increase the skills and confidence of the patient; to train as many as possible for jobs outside; to allow them to communicate better with others; to overcome personality maladjustments and to train employees in the new objectives set forth."

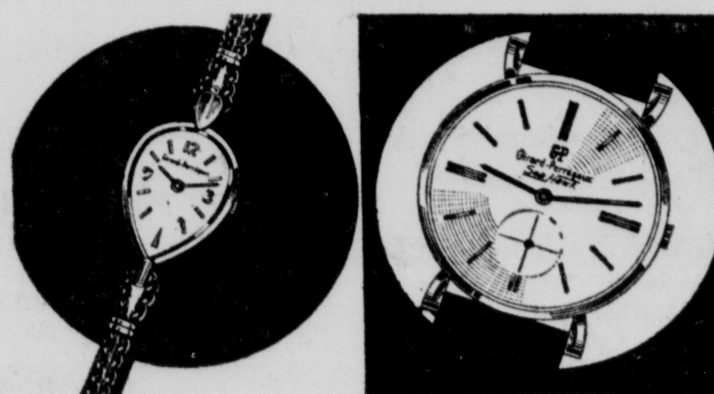

"In order to rehabilitate successfully," Dr. Daly went on to say, "those in charge must study the patient carefully, know his background, his social history, and then place him where he is most likely to succeed, although that prediction is hard to make. These patients, as others, have their strengths and weaknesses, and the aim is to try to develop their aptitudes as much as possible. For those with reading difficulty, for example, there are remedial reading classes. About two hundred children attend the school where fourteen teachers endeavor to teach the children practical aspects of life outside."

The AAUW said that those who heard Dr. Daly were of the opinion that they have a much better understanding of the objectives of industrial therapy in general and of Orient State Institute in particular.

MRS. THOMAS WOOD

Mary Ellen Linkenhoker Wed in Groveport Church

Miss Mary Ellen Linkenhoker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Linkenhoker of Groveport, formerly of Tarilton, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Wood, Columbus, at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, Sept. 23, in the Groveport Methodist Church. The Rev. Richard Jameson solemnized the marriage.

Arrangements of gladioli and carnations were used on the altar. The candles were lighted by Debra Ellen Hardman of Laurelville and the bridegroom's sister, Sharon Wood.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace and silk tulle over taffeta which had a lace basque bodice with a portrait neckline outlined in lace flower appliques enhanced with pearls and iridescents. The bouffant lace skirt was accented at the back with tiers of ruffled silk tulle. She wore a queen's crown of orange blossoms to which was attached an imported silk illusion veil, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations.

The maid of honor was Miss Judy Hardman of Laurelville. Her blue brocade dress was sashed in blue satin, and her headpiece was encrusted with iridescents. Wearing identically styled dresses in different colors were the bridesmaids, Miss Sue Edwards, of Columbus, in beige, and Miss Jenni Brown, also of Columbus, in pink. The bride groom's sister, Diana Wood, was flower girl and the bride's cousin, Darrell Tuttle of Chillicothe, was ring bearer.

Mr. John Wesley Wood was best man for his brother, Mr. Walter Watkins and Mr. Christ Butler, both of Columbus, seated the guests.

A reception was given in the church social room. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Fred Stumbo of Kingston, Mrs. Donald Hardman of Laurelville and Mrs. James Day of Canal Winchester.

The bride was graduated from Groveport-Madison High School and the bridegroom from Whitehall Yearling High School. He is associated with the Lennox Furnace Co. of Columbus.

DuPont Executive Guests Monday Club

When the Monday Club met Oct. 23, the main feature of the evening was a highly informative and entertaining lecture given by Mr. Charles P. DeNeef, quality control supervisor at the DuPont Company. His title was "A Word to the Wives", a personalized talk on the chemical industry as good neighbors.

In his speech, Mr. DeNeef emphasized the need for teamwork in the steps in industry as in other cooperative efforts in life. "Actually," he stated, "a large business is a team, for the product is born in the laboratory very often by team effort. The days of random searching are gone. In modern times a problem is approached by a research team consisting of a metallurgist, a physicist and probably a chemist. The product is then handed to the market research people who are another part of the industrial team. They study the possible sales potential of the product. Thus all departments must work together to solve the multiple problems facing industrial effort today. Similarly the sales organization must work with the others to provide their service to the ultimate goal of all — the satisfaction of the customer."

He further stated, "In order to succeed a product has to have three things: it must have a purpose, it must have quality and it must be reasonable. It is no coincidence that there also are characteristics needed by people. Quality is a characteristic to which we are all sensitive in a product. They have all become more complex; formerly we had things repaired easily, but now we have to take our complicated cars and appliances warily to others. More and more we must deal with people we do not know about things we do not understand. This makes quality

Mr. DeNeef went on to say, "A product must be reasonable. It must compete in the marketplace with dozens of other commodities, so we must constantly seek ways to make it efficient, reduce waste, and improve quality. This means that we must recognize motivation as a vital element in business, and that provides the basis for wages and more jobs."

"As products reach the commercial stage, they require plants in which to make them, people to run the plants and people to transport and sell the finished product. Thus do new products lead to new jobs. Very few of the products we make enter your home or your life in their original form. Ninety-five per cent of DuPont's entire sales consists of chemicals and chemical products sold to other manufacturers for further processing."

"In the industry and particularly in DuPont the products have led to the establishment of a number of small businesses — companies that came into existence because of new opportunities offered by these products. Cellophane is an outstanding example. Today, DuPont, one of three manufacturers, has about 6,000 customers, of which less than 100 are big companies; the rest are small businesses who developed new uses and new techniques for use."

"The chemical industry," Mr. DeNeef said, "as a whole gives direct employment to 800,000 men and women at more than 12,000 locations in every state in the Union. This industry produces a bewildering range of products from basic chemicals such as caustic soda, to drugs, vitamins, plastics, and man-made fibers. DuPont itself is a big company; it has 1200 product lines manufactured in some 78 plants in 28 states and yet, big as we may be regarded, our share of the business is only 8 per cent. The size of the company is related neither to dominance or to monopoly. Instead of seeking to be the biggest frog in the single pond it has sought the smaller places in a great many chemical ponds. This policy of growth by diversification has been deliberate, for we believe that in diversification there is both strength and

"Mylar" is an excellent example of this type of product. It owes its great market acceptance to these outstanding properties: physical strength, resistance to chemicals, and electrical insulation ability. It retains all these properties from -80°F. to 300°F. Its uses can be divided into five categories: 1) as a carrier, perhaps providing support for adhesives, carbon, paint, or even sound tape; 2) as a barrier, sealing out moisture or air or providing electrical insulation as in refrigerator walls; 3) as a surface, providing a transparent surface for bookbinders, designers, or decorators or even projection screens; as a container, packaging countless retail products that improve merchandizing service; and 5) structure-in which the film duplicates or improves structural characteristics of wood, metal and glass as it brings new thinness and corrosion resistance to a vast range of structures, such as Echo Satellite."

He concluded by saying, "Just as Mylar must have certain qualities if it is to succeed, so a man too must have certain qualities. We must get a long if we want to get ahead, and one of the hardest things is to see things from another's viewpoint. One way involves understanding people and getting to know the honest basic needs which we all naturally have. We do not have to approve and condone the mistakes people make but we must learn to distinguish between the person and the behavior. We can approve the first and disapprove the second. Life is better if we can practice this policy."

The president, Miss Mary K. May, introduced three new members who were Mrs. Jacques Sweeney, Mrs. John Beck and Mrs. George Sowers. During the short business meeting which followed, Miss Ruth Montelius was voted into the club.

Greek Pelican Slated To Get Louisiana Mates

ATHENS, Greece (AP) - An American mining company says it is arranging for two Louisiana pelicans to be flown to Greece to mate with Peter, the lonely pet pelican of Mykonos Island.

No one knows where Peter came from. He arrived about four years ago on the island where a pelican had never been seen before. Since then the bird has become pet and friend of the islanders, tourist attraction No. 1 and No. 1 local character.

Church in St. Paul, Minn., decided to do something about an idea that had been nagging him more than two years.

Hopefully, he mailed to about 9,000 Catholics across the country a dummy cover of a digest type magazine, its suggested contents listed on the front. Recipients were asked on an enclosed postcard whether they would subscribe to this kind of publication.

Two months later, Father Gales, 40, and his close friend, The Rev. Paul Bussard, sat in the basement of the Bishop's House in St. Paul, a bushel basket of postcards between them, and began making plans for what was to become the most successful Catholic magazine in the world.

Catholic Digest, which observes its 25th anniversary with the 144-page November issue, now is a private corporation grossing $5 million a year, boasts a paid U.S. sales of 15,000 a month, plus 10 circulation of 751,178, newsstand foreign editions printed in five languages and a Braille edition.

In addition, the magazine has a monthly book club with 56,000 members and next February plans to begin publication of a second magazine, "The Catholic Market" a slick-paper monthly aimed at what it describes as "the $3 billion to $4 billion Catholic trade market." Another enterprise in the works is a junior book club offering biographies of famous Catholics.

Despite its financial success, Father Gales says frankly the aim of the magazine is not to make money, but to make more Catholics.

"Our hope is to show the rich content of the Catholic faith by selecting the best reading material available so that those who are mildly interested in Catholicism might investigate it more thoroughly," he said.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Has Harrison Y. Kahlendorf, 43, found God? Some observers say yes. Mr. Kahlendorf says no.

The circumstances are these: Four months ago Mr. Kahlendorf was indifferent to religion. He was also weary of worry, and hungry for hope. One Sunday he "just happened" to go to Church...

The Christian Truth came to Harrison Y. Kahlendorf as good news... and it began to change his life.

Today there is new happiness in his home, new warmth in his friendships, new challenge in his job. And every day he is discovering adventure, opportunity and blessing he never dreamed of before.

Does all this mean that Harrison Y. Kahlendorf has found God? Some observers say yes. Taking issue with them, Mr. Kahlendorf told our reporter:

"It was I who had been hiding... God found ME!"

Church in St. Paul, Minn., decided to do something about an idea that had been nagging him more than two years.

Hopefully, he mailed to about 9,000 Catholics across the country a dummy cover of a digest type magazine, its suggested contents listed on the front. Recipients were asked on an enclosed postcard whether they would subscribe to this kind of publication.

Two months later, Father Gales, 40, and his close friend, The Rev. Paul Bussard, sat in the basement of the Bishop's House in St. Paul, a bushel basket of postcards between them, and began making plans for what was to become the most successful Catholic magazine in the world.

Catholic Digest, which observes its 25th anniversary with the 144-page November issue, now is a private corporation grossing $5 million a year, boasts a paid U.S. sales of 15,000 a month, plus 10 circulation of 751,178, newsstand foreign editions printed in five languages and a Braille edition.

In addition, the magazine has a monthly book club with 56,000 members and next February plans to begin publication of a second magazine, "The Catholic Market," a slick-paper monthly aimed at what it describes as "the $3 billion to $4 billion Catholic trade market." Another enterprise in the works is a junior book club offering biographies of famous Catholics.

Despite its financial success, Father Gales says frankly the aim of the magazine is not to make money, but to make more Catholics.

"Our hope is to show the rich content of the Catholic faith by selecting the best reading material available so that those who are mildly interested in Catholicism might investigate it more thoroughly," he said.

Has Harrison Y. Kahlendorf, 43, found God? Some observers say yes. Mr. Kahlendorf says no.

The circumstances are these: Four months ago Mr. Kahlendorf was indifferent to religion. He was also weary of worry, and hungry for hope. One Sunday he "just happened" to go to Church...

The Christian Truth came to Harrison Y. Kahlendorf as good news... and it began to change his life.

Today there is new happiness in his home, new warmth in his friendships, new challenge in his job. And every day he is discovering adventure, opportunity and blessing he never dreamed of before.

Does all this mean that Harrison Y. Kahlendorf has found God? Some observers say yes. Taking issue with them, Mr. Kahlendorf told our reporter:

"It was I who had been hiding... God found ME!"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Church and Christian Growth

THE VARIOUS GIFTS GIVEN DIFFERENT CHRIS-TIAN FOR THE COMMON GOOD

Scripture—I Corinthians 12:1-30.

By N. SPEER JONES
THE SUBJECT matter in today's lesson is from a letter written by Paul—probably from Ephesus about 57 A.D.—to the members of the church at Corinth, the great business center of Greece. It concerns what are known as spiritual gifts.
Paul indicates in the opening verses of Chapter 12 that he is going to speak frankly and fully because he believes that their Christian principles are sufficiently well grounded by this time that they will understand him and not be led astray,
as they might well have been
as pagans.
Everyone who is truly a Christian is indwelt by the Holy Spirit, Paul explains; therefore no true Christian can curse
Jesus and no one other than a Christian can truthfully acknowledge Christ as omnipotent.

He goes on to say (verses
4-7) that the Holy Spirit, residing in each of us, brings forth
in each of us some gift—some
"manifestation of the Spirit"—
"for the common good."
This gift may be very different in different people. Also,
some people may have only one gift, difficult to recognize,
whereas others may have many prominent talents. These gifts are also apt to change during a person's life.

Verses 8-11 enumerate some of these spiritual gifts. Four of these mentioned are so-called
"miraculous" gifts — healing
powers, prophetic insight, etc.
The church today debates
whether such miraculous gifts are still given. The Bible gives no indication that they are to cease. On the other hand, historical Philip Schaff points out must see ourselves in relation to the whole. We harm others as much by not doing what we ought to do as by doing something we ought not to do.

This applies to character and example as well as to actions.
Those of us who think our talents may be very meager may perform a most vital service simply by being responsible, loving persons. The worst thing
we can do is to say, in effect,
"I can't be of service; I have no talent."

This last point is borne out
in verses 22-24, in which Paul likens those whose gifts are not obvious to the unseen parts of the body, which provide it with some of its greatest treasures.
In summation, this lesson points out that one aspect of Christian growth is in the individual's responsibility to his fellow man, to exercise his God-given gifts.

Ohio's Autumn Colors
Still Holding Up Fine

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Autumn leaves still caress the trees
in most parts of Ohio, the Division of Parks reports in painting a promising picture in its weekly
fall color report.

Color changes are slow this fall,
the division says, and most trees
are holding leaves far beyond normal time. So, if you're hoping to head for the hills or state parks
elsewhere for a look at fall foliage in splendor, there's no time like now.

GOP Leaders Rap State Office Charge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Republican legislative leaders today
assailed a proposal to assess state offices, departments and agencies
$6.35 a year per employee for processing their payrolls.

The personnel department notified state officials, departments
and agencies the assessment is necessary because of budget cuts
made by the legislature.

Senate Clerk Thomas E.
Bateman said he notified James
T. Welsh, personnel director, his office will not pay the assessments which include charges for state senators.

House Speaker Roger Cloud
said he told clerk Carl Guess of the House that he should not pay it.

"We don't need that service, Cloud said. "We keep our own records. Employees of the House are not in classified service and certainly not the members of the House."

Senate Finance Chairman William H. Deddens, R - Hamilton, questioned the personnel department's authority to make the assessment.

"If you pursue that further,
you'll have different state departments charging the other departments for various services," Deddens said. "It is just one department refusing to do work for another department which is their responsibility."

State Finance Director James H.
Maloon, whose office does the data processing on payrolls for the personnel department, said the service cannot be given unless his department is paid for it.

Welsh said his department's budget allowed by the legislature contained funds to cover only
"slightly more than one quarter's
cost" of the service.

Big Sunday Punch Readied By Television Networks

NEW YORK (AP) — Network
television has a big Sunday punch
for the viewers—particularly the ones that complain there's nothing worth watching any more.

Graham Greene's novel "The Power and the Glory," adapted to a two-hour TV drama, will be shown on CBS Sunday from 9 to 11 p. m. (EDT) with a big, star-studded cast headed by Laurence Olivier and Julie Harris. And it is expected to be one of the big events of the season.

There is also NBC's "The World of Hope," first of a series of documentary biographical projects using new camera techniques. This one also comes on Sunday, from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m.

Among the regularly scheduled shows during the next seven days, there are some items of passing interest:

Tonight, for instance, Lee Marvin will perform on two CBS series—"Route 66" (8:30-9:30) and
"The Twilight Zone" (10:10-11:30).
NBC's Telephone Hour (9:30-
10:30) will feature the McGuire sisters, the Kingston Trio and Benny Goodman.

Saturday night's NBC movie
(9-11) will be "There's no Business Like Show Business" with Marilyn Monroe, Ethel Merman
and Donald O'Connor. On Monday, Gertrude Berg will visit Jackie Cooper's "Hennessey" show (CBS, 10-10:30 p. m.) and Tom Poston will star on NBC's
"Thriller" (10-11).

Host Dick Powell will act in a drama of World War II on NBC's
"Dick Powell Show" Tuesday
night (9-10). ABC's "Close-Up"

(10-11) is a study of automation
called "The Awesome Servant."

Perry Como's Wednesday night
(NBC, 9-10) guest is Shirley
Booth. Jane Wyatt and Hans Con-
ried star on Steel Hour's "Little Lost Sheep," a comedy (CBS, 10-11).

Seminary Due To Limit Its Enrollment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — St.
Charles Borromeo College Seminary will become exclusively a seminary for the training of future priests of the Columbus Catholic Diocese.

Students have been informed that, as of next September, only boys who are planning to enter the priesthood will be accepted for enrollment in the 1962 freshman class.

Msgr. Paul J. O'Dea, principal of the school, said boys now enrolled in the school as college preparatory students will follow the present course schedule until their graduation. This means that the final group of non-seminarians will be graduated in June 1965.
St. Charles has always taken some students from other counties of the 23-county diocese, Msgr.
O'Dea said.

It is the only seminary operated by the Columbus Diocese. The Pontifical College Josephinum,
north of Worthington, is under direct supervision of the Vatican.

The Church and Christian Growth

TIAN FOR THE COMMON GOOD

Scripture—1 Corinthians 12:1-30.

By N. SPEER JONES
THE SUBJECT matter in today's lesson is from a letter written by Paul—probably from Ephesus about 57 A.D.—to the members of the church at Corinth, the great business center
of Greece. It concerns what are known as spiritual gifts.

Paul indicates in the opening
verses of Chapter 12 that he is going to speak frankly and
fully because he believes that their Christian principles are sufficiently well grounded by
this time that they will understand him and not be led astray,
as they might well have been
as pagans.

Everyone who is truly a Christian is indwelt by the Holy Spirit. Paul explains; therefore
no true Christian can curse
Jesus and no one other than a
Christian can truthfully ac-

362). "As fast as the reigning power of heathenism is broken, those gifts which exhibited most of the miracles, became less frequent and after the 4th century, almost disappeared."
Verses 12-27 outline a comparison between the various Christians with their various talents, and the human body with its various parts. We are all members of one great body, a human but God-inspired fellowship.

We cannot exist alone, outside this great body, any more than an ear or an eye can exist alone. By the same token, we cannot truly exist without contributing freely of our own individual gifts, for without the aid of all its members a body is hampered and may even die.
This means we cannot simply "mind our own business"; we

the increase of the body unto the building up of itself in love."—Ephesians 4:16.

Knowledge Christ as omnipotent.

He goes on to say (verses
4-7) that the Holy Spirit, residing in each of us, brings forth
in each of us some gift—some
"manifestation of the Spirit"—
"for the common good."

This gift may be very different in different people. Also,
some people may have only one
gift, difficult to recognize,
whereas others may have many prominent talents. These gifts
are also apt to change during
a person's life.

Verses 8-11 enumerate some of these spiritual gifts. Four of these mentioned are so-called
"miraculous" gifts — healing
powers, prophetic insight, etc.

The church today debates
whether such miraculous gifts
are still given. The Bible gives no indication that they are to cease. On the other hand, historian Philip Schaff notes out ("Peloube's Select Notes," p.

must see ourselves in relation to the whole. We harm others
as much by not doing what we ought to do as by doing something we ought not to do.

This applies to character and
example as well as to actions.
Those of us who think our talents may be very meager may perform a most vital service
simply by being responsible,
loving persons. The worst thing
we can do is to say, in effect,
"I can't be of service; I have no
talent."

This last point is borne out
in verses 22-24, in which Paul likens those whose gifts are not obvious to the unseen parts of the body, which provide it with some of its greatest treasures.

In summation, this lesson
points out that one aspect of Christian growth is in the individual's responsibility to his fellow man, to exercise his God-
given gifts.

Ohio's Autumn Colors
Still Holding Up Fine

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Autumn leaves still caress the trees
in most parts of Ohio, the Division
of Parks reports in painting a promising picture in its weekly
fall color report.

Color changes are slow this fall,
the division says, and most trees
are holding leaves far beyond normal time. So, if you're hoping to head for the hills or state parks
elsewhere for a look at fall foliage
in splendor, there's no time like
now.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Republican legislative leaders today
assailed a proposal to assess state
offices, departments and agencies
$6.35 a year per employee for processing their payrolls.

The personnel department notified state officials, departments
and agencies the assessment is necessary because of budget cuts
made by the legislature.

Senate Clerk Thomas E.
Bateman said he notified James
T. Welsh, personnel director, his office will not pay the assessments which include charges for state
senators.

House Speaker Roger Cloud
said he told clerk Carl Guess of the House that he should not pay it.

"We don't need that service, Cloud said. "We keep our own records. Employees of the House are not in classified service and certainly not the members of the House."

Senate Finance Chairman William H. Deddens, R - Hamilton,
questioned the personnel department's authority to make the assessment.

"If you pursue that further,
you'll have different state departments charging the other departments for various services," Deddens said. "It is just one department refusing to do work for another department which is their responsibility."

State Finance Director James H.
Maloon, whose office does the data processing on payrolls, said the personnel department, said the service cannot be given unless his department is paid for it.

Welsh said his department's budget allowed by the legislature
contained funds to cover only
"slightly more than one quarter's
cost" of the service.

Big Sunday Punch Readied By Television Networks

NEW YORK (AP) — Network
television has a big Sunday punch
for the viewers—particularly the ones that complain there's nothing
worth watching any more.

Graham Greene's novel "The Power and the Glory," adapted to
a two-hour TV drama, will be shown on CBS Sunday from 9 to 11 p. m. (EDT) with a big, star-
studded cast headed by Laurence Olivier and Julie Harris. And it is expected to be one of the big events of the season.

There is also NBC's "The World of Documentary," a series of projects using new camera techniques. This one also comes on Sunday, from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m.

Among the regularly scheduled
shows during the next seven days,
there are some items of passing
interest:

Tonight, for instance, Lee Marvin will perform on two CBS series—"Route 66" (8:30-9:30) and
"The Twilight Zone" (10:10-11).
NBC's Telephone Hour (9:30-
10:30) will feature the McGuire
sisters, the Kingston Trio and Benny Goodman.

Saturday night's NBC movie
(9-11) will be "There's no Business Like Show Business" with Marilyn Monroe, Ethel Merman
and Donald O'Connor. On Monday, Gertrude Berg will visit
Jackie Cooper's "Hennessey"
show (CBS, 10:10-10:30 p. m.) and Tom Poston will star on NBC's
"Thriller" (10-11).

Host Dick Powell will act in a drama of World War II on NBC's
"Dick Powell Show" Tuesday
night (9-10). ABC's "Close-Up"

(10-11) is a study of automation
called "The Awesome Servant."
Perry Como's Wednesday night
(NBC, 9-10) guest is Shirley
Booth. Jane Wyatt and Hans Con-
ried star on Steel Hour's "Little Lost Sheep," a comedy (CBS, 10-11).

Seminary Due To Limit Its Enrollment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — St.
Charles Borromeo College Seminary will become exclusively a seminary for the training of future
Diocese.

Students have been informed that, as of next September, only
boys who are planning to enter
the priesthood will be accepted for enrollment in the 1962 freshman class.

Msgr. Paul J. O'Dea, principal of the school, said boys now enrolled in the school as college preparatory students will follow the
present course schedule until their graduation. This means that
the final group of non-seminarians will be graduated in June 1965.

St. Charles has always taken
some students from other counties of the 23-county diocese, Msgr.
O'Dea said.

It is the only seminary operated
by the Columbus Diocese. The Pontifical College Josephinum,
north of Worthington, is under direct supervision of the Vatican.

Reorganization Rocks Egypt

Many Arrests Tied To Syrian Revolt

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Syrian revolt has touched off a wave of arrests and reorganization in Egypt that diplomatic sources say is more widespread than President Nasser has admitted publicly.

Nasser even may have been forced to share some of his power with two long-time associates.

The arrests extend into the army and air force.

Nasser's government has admitted the arrest of 40 civilians and confiscation of property of 167 more. The government said they were reactionary obstacles to Nasser's goal of Arab socialism.

Damascus newspapers reported property was seized from more than 1,000 persons, most of them Syrians and Lebanese. And qualified informants say that at least 36 air force officers have been confined and possibly 100 army officers have been arrested or dismissed.

The army officers are mainly relatives or close allies of the wealthy civilians picked up on Oct. 17.

Censorship of outgoing dispatches has prevented Cairo correspondents reporting these additional arrests or other evidences of unsettled conditions in Egypt.

Some informed observers in Cairo believe that in moving to quell any potential challenge to his regime, Nasser has been forced to surrender some of his power. These sources see a triumvirate emerging, with Nasser still very much on top but forced to trim his sails as he did in the first years after the revolution, when he had to work through a revolutionary officers' council.

The other two members of the triumvirate are both veterans of that council: the minister of treasury and planning, Abdel Latif Boghady, and Interior Minister Zakaria Mohieddin.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Columbus was the coldest spot in the state early today where the temperature dropped to 35 degrees and frost was observed. The highest temperature was at Cleveland with 42 degrees under cloudy skies. Youngstown had 41, Zanesville 31 and Marietta 34.

Heavy fog was reported along the Ohio River at Cincinnati.

Today promises to be a fair day over most of the state. However, some cloudiness will linger in the north and east.

Saturday will be fair and warmer.

College Gridiron To Rock Again On Saturday

Nation's Leading 11s Hope To Continue on Their Winning Paths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Miami Hurricanes, which have won only two of five games and have lost their last two hope to begin the college football season all over again tonight when they meet a strong University of North Carolina team in Miami's Orange Bowl.

But for teams like Michigan State, ranked first nationally in the current Associated Press poll, Mississippi, Texas and Alabama, the winning habit, cultivated with the opening game, should continue this weekend.

For Miami, off last week, a new start is contemplated. George Mira, the flashy sophomore quarterback who has been hobbled by injuries since the victory over Kentucky, is expected to see action. As Mira goes, so go the Hurricanes for he has not played in the last two games and saw only limited action in a 25-8 victory over Penn State.

George Washington (3-4) takes on Boston University (1-1) in the night's other major activity.

Michigan State (4-0), after two clutch wins over Michigan and Notre Dame, takes on Indiana in a Big Ten game. The Spartans, in a four-way tie for the conference lead with fifth-ranked Iowa, sixth-ranked Ohio State and Minnesota, should make it with plenty to spare.

Ohio State (3-0-1) meets Wisconsin (3-2) in the day's national television game (ABC-TV, 2:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time) while Iowa (4-0) plays Purdue (2-2) and Minnesota (3-1) takes on Michigan (3-1) in the Little Brown Jug game. Each of the four Big Ten leaders has a 2-0 conference mark.

Mississippi, looking to next week's crucial Southeastern Conference clash against Louisiana State (No. 7) has a homecoming date against Vanderbilt (2-3). Ole Miss is 5-0 so far and has not lost in 20 games.

Alabama, atop the SEC with 4-0, is out of the conference against Houston (2-2-1) while Texas (5-0) plays what may be its last obstacle for the Southwest Conference title when it meets Rice (2-2-1). The third-ranked Longhorns, which easily beat tough Arkansas last week, are 2-0 in the SEC and Rice is 1-0.

Notre Dame, ranked eighth with a 3-1 mark, meets Northwestern (2-2), ninth-ranked Georgia Tech (4-1) plays Tulane (1-4) in another SEC game and Big Eight leader Colorado (4-0) plays winless Oklahoma (0-4) in a conference tilt.

Mike Brown of 551 E. Mound St. and Kris Farley, veteran Canal Winchester kiegler, walked off with the top money prizes in Circle D Lanes' third annual Headpin Tournament, completed Sunday at the E. Main St. recreation center.

The results, just announced by Circle D operator Larry Dietrich, show Brown and Farley deadlocked for first place in the men's division with identical 117 scores. The two bowlers divided $70 in cash payouts. Farley rolled with a 191 average while Brown has a 161 average.

One thin point behind the leaders in second place was William Dietrich of 106½ E. Franklin St. with 116 on a 175 average. Dietrich took $20. Other award winners in men's competition were Butch Lutz, 451 E. Ohio St. (115), Bob Callihan, 1002½ S. Court St. (114), and Tom Ankrum, Route 3, Washington C. H. (113).

CHS To Be Cautious

'Surprising' Trace Club Faces Tigers

Miami Trace, tonight's football foe for Circleville High School's blockbusting Tigers, has captured only one South Central Ohio League win in four loop outings. The Panthers have been plagued by fumbles and spend most of their practice hours doggedly drilling on the most fundamental of grid plays. Added to this, the Fayette County eleven can boast little in the way of experience at several critical positions.

Change a few figures and move the calendar back a week and these facts would indicate an almost-certain CHS triumph. But not after last Friday and most certainly not in the eyes of veteran Tiger head mentor Carl (Benny) Benhase.

"Take Trace lightly? Look at what happened last week — and those boys are going to be out to do the same thing to us," Benhase snapped during an interview.

What happened last week still has Hillsboro's Indians muttering to themselves. Coach Danny O'Brien's Panthers started rolling with the opening whistle and just wouldn't be stopped, piling up a 50-0 advantage by the game's end.

Braves, Scioto Ready to End '61 Grid Wars

Scioto's head football coach Robby Good and Keith Merrin, top Logan Elm grid mentor, are attending the same conference on coaching procedure today in Columbus — but it is doubtful that they're divulging any trade secrets to each other.

These same two men will be on opposing sidelines tomorrow night at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds field when the county's two B's — Buffaloes and Braves — put the wraps on their 1961 gridiron campaigns.

It will be Parent's Night for the host Braves, and the Logan Elm eleven is out to improve its 5-2 season slate. The Tribe will be operating under a serious handicap, though, for star quarterback Arnie Gabriel, credited with sparking much of the Braves' success this season, will not be in the lineup.

Gabriel sustained an ankle injury during practice Wednesday and will not even be in uniform tomorrow.

SCIO's reputation in good shape for the tilt. The Buffaloes have surprised most observers this year with an unusually rugged brand of ball and are expected to give the Braves a severe test. Good's Scioto crew uses some passing to vary a basic running attack. With Gabriel out and only freshmen available to replace him at the QB slot, Logan Elm is expected to stick closely to a ground offense.

Aviation Bowl Eyes Contestants

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Nine teams are being considered as possible participants in the first annual Aviation Bowl football game here Dec. 9, Commissioner David E. Reese of the Mid-American Conference said Thursday.

One of the nine probably will meet a Mid-American representative in the contest, which has NCA sanction.

Reese, the chairman of the selection committee, said "feelers" were sent today to Rutgers (4-0), Utah State 5-0-1, Wyoming (4-0-2), Detroit (3-1), Colgate (3-1), Villanova (5-1), Wichita (5-1), Utah (5-1) and Florida State (3-1-1).

Laurel announced today it had been notified by the Soviet Embassy in Washington that Abeg and Erpich will race in the 10th International on Nov. 11.

The Russian entries bring the field to eight.

The United States pair was completed Thursday with the naming of T.V. Lark to join Mrs. Richard du Pont's Kelso.

Runner, 67, Still Able To Go Good Mile

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Joie Ray still is winning his race against father time.

He did a 6:32.6 mile in the Illinois Armory Thursday. He is 67 years old.

The mile run was held under the watchful eye of Dr. Thomas K. Cureton, director of Illinois' Physical Fitness Research Laboratory.

He was the United States distance star of the roaring 20's. He matched a world record 4:12 in 1925, competed in three Olympics, carried the Illinois Athletic Club colors into 950 races and won medals, ribbons or trophies in all but one.

For the last six years, he has been running a birthday mile on April 13. His best was 5:50 in 1959. He was disappointed with his 6:32.6 special mile Thursday.

"I had been training since July," said Joie, retired Gary, Ind. steel mill worker. "I had been running two to four miles a day, rowing a boat, lifting weights, working out at a health club and following a diet made up mostly of wheat germ. I was sure I could do it in six flat or better."

"Bu I'll stay in training and try again on my 68th birthday." Cureton said the undergrudates he tests average about 7 minutes for the mile.

OSU Game Slated on TV

24 Ohio College Teams Scheduled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's unbeaten, sixth - ranked Buckeyes were two - touchdown favorites over Wisconsin today for Saturday's Big Ten tussle.

Ohio State is 2-0 in the conference, and hasn't allowed a point. The Badgers, figured in the pre-season guesses as one of the better teams, have been disappointing. They are 1-2 in the league. They defeated Indiana 6-3 on a pair of field goals, but were swamped 20-0 by Michigan State and 47-15 by Iowa. Overall the Bucks are 3-0-1 and the Badgers 3-2.

The OSU-Badger contest is to be carried by ABC-TV at 2:30 p. m.

The Madison melee is the eye-catcher among 24 Saturday contests involving Ohio clubs. Other big ones have North Texas State at Cincinnati, Ohio University at Delaware, Lenoir Rhyne at Wittenberg, Baldwin-Wallace at Akron, Citadel at Xavier, Detroit at Dayton (N) and Youngstown at Hillsdale (N).

On the conference front, Otterbein appears destined to step out front in the 14-college Ohio loop. The Westerville powerhouse, deadlocked at 4-0 with Muskingum and Wittenberg, goes against Marietta, unable to win in five starts. Muskingum and Wittenberg are paired with non-league foes, so a win would give the Cardinals the top spot.

Bowling Green, winner of five in a row, hopes to enhance its Mid-American lead by turning back invading Miami which has lost four of six starts.

Saturday's slate:
Big Ten: Ohio State at Wisconsin.

Ohio Conference: Wooster at Capital, Heidelberg at Denison, Mount Union at Hiram, Kenyon at Oberlin and Marietta at Otterbein.

Mid-Ohio League: Findlay at Defiance, Ashland at Wilmington (N) and Bluffton at Ohio Northern (N).

Mid - American Conference: Miami at Bowling Green and Kent State at Toledo.

Non-conference: Baldwin - Wallace at Akron, Lincoln, Mo., at Central State, North Texas State at Cincinnati, Muskingum at West Chester, Pa., Ohio Univ. at Delaware, Ohio Wesleyan at Wabash, Lenoir Rhyne at Wittenberg, Citadel at Xavier, Detroit at Dayton (N) and Youngstown at Hillsdale (N).

What happened last week still has Hillsboro's Indians muttering to themselves. Coach Danny O'Brien's Panthers started rolling with the opening whistle and just wouldn't be stopped, piling up a 50-0 advantage by the game's end.

REPLACING the Black and White's usual second-rate showing was a coordinated air and ground assault combined with what O'Brien labeled a "terrific" defense. The Panthers are still working on fundamentals — O'Brien prescribed the same set of drills that produced such excellent results last week — but reports indicate the team is much more poised and confident.

The transformation of Miami Trace into a serious SCOL pennant threat is still far from complete, but these factors should tighten tonight's clash here:

Stronger passing — the Panthers use an alternating pair of strong-arm quarterbacks, Larry Avey and Dave Craig. Circleville has had trouble defending against attack from the skyways.

Heavy line — they grow 'em big in the Fayette countryside and MT can point with just pride at a front wall as rugged as any in the circuit.

Downfield blocking — it was exceptional last week. Only time will tell whether or not this was a fluke.

The Panthers still have to buck the problem of inexperience and the inconsistent performances it can produce. Scouting reports here also indicate the Tigers will see a lot of open space up the middle on offense. With Garold Dade, Fred Moore and Duke Fyfe, all speedsters, leading the way this could become a decisive Bengal advantage.

COACH Benhase believes his charges are rested and ready after trouncing Greenfield 21-8 in another home match last Friday. He is sending them on the field with a strict admonition "not to get careless for a minute" against MT.

Benhase and his aides had a silent prayer on their lips earlier this week after starting QB Dave Hannahs, a major factor in the Tiger triumphs against Hillsboro and McClain, was ordered to bed nursing a mild cold. The scrappy field general is apparently fit for duty tonight, though. He is slated to lead an offense that will put more emphasis on passing while still running a lot.

Only alteration in the CHS starting roster will be Larry Adams, who probably will replace Jim Anderson at right guard. Anderson sustained a minor shoulder injury recently.

Game time is 8 p. m. and a capacity crowd is anticipated.

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Russia will try for the fourth straight time to win the Washington, D.C. International with a pair of 4-year-old colts.

Laurel announced today it had been notified by the Soviet Embassy in Washington that Abeg and Erpich will race in the 10th International on Nov. 11.

The Russian entries bring the field to eight.

The United States pair was completed Thursday with the naming of T.V. Lark to join Mrs. Richard du Pont's Kelso.

Runner, 67, Still Able To Go Good Mile

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Joie Ray still is winning his race against father time.

He did a 6:32.6 mile in the Illinois Armory Thursday. He is 67 years old.

The mile run was held under the watchful eye of Dr. Thomas K. Cureton, director of Illinois' Physical Fitness Research Laboratory.

Joie has been running most of his life.

He was the United States distance star of the roaring 20's. He matched a world record 4:12 in 1925, competed in three Olympics, carried the Illinois Athletic Club colors into 950 races and won medals, ribbons or trophies in all but one.

For the last six years, he has been running a birthday mile on April 13. His best was 5:50 in 1959. He was disappointed with his 6:32.6 special mile Thursday.

"I had been training since July," said Joie, retired Gary, Ind. steel mill worker. "I had been running two to four miles a day, rowing a boat, lifting weights, working out at a health club and following a diet made up mostly of wheat germ. I was sure I could do it in six flat or better."

"Bu I'll stay in training and try again on my 68th birthday," Cureton said the undergraduates he tests average about 7 minutes for the mile.

OSU Game Slated on TV

24 Ohio College Teams Scheduled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's unbeaten, sixth - ranked Buckeyes were two - touchdown favorites over Wisconsin today for Saturday's Big Ten tussle.

And if the Ohioans aren't looking past the Badgers to next week's fray with rugged Iowa, the figures indicate the two-touchdown spread is about right.

Ohio State is 2-0 in the conference, and hasn't allowed a point. The Badgers, figured in the pre-season guesses as one of the better teams, have been disappointing. They are 1-2 in the league. They defeated Indiana 6-3 on a pair of field goals, but were swamped 20-0 by Michigan State and 47-15 by Iowa. Overall the Bucks are 3-0-1 and the Badgers 3-2.

The OSU-Badger contest is to be carried by ABC-TV at 2:30 p. m.

The Madison melee is the eye-catcher among 24 Saturday con- tests involving Ohio clubs. Other big ones have North Texas State at Cincinnati, Ohio University at Delaware, Lenoir Rhyne at Wittenberg, Baldwin-Wallace at Akron, Citadel at Xavier, Detroit at Dayton and Youngstown at Hillsdale.

On the conference front, Otter-bein appears destined to step out front in the 14-college Ohio loop. The Westerville powerhouse, deadlocked at 4-0 with Muskingum and Wittenberg, goes against Marietta, unable to win in five starts. Muskingum and Wittenberg are paired with non-league foes, so a win would give the Cardinals the top spot.

Bowling Green, winner of five in a row, hopes to enhance its Mid-American lead by turning back invading Miami which has lost four of six starts.

Saturday's slate:
Big Ten: Ohio State at Wiscon-sin.

Ohio Conference: Wooster at Capital, Heidelberg at Denison, Mount Union at Hiram, Kenyon at Oberlin and Marietta at Otter-bein.

Mid-Ohio League: Findlay at Defiance, Ashland at Wilmington (N) and Bluffton at Ohio Northern (N).

Mid - American Conference: Miami at Bowling Green and Kent State at Toledo.

Presidents' Conference: Alleghe-ny at Case Tech, Wayne State at John Carroll and Western Reserve at Thiel.

Non-conference: Baldwin - Wal-lace at Akron, Lincoln, Mo., at Central State, North Texas State at Cincinnati, Muskingum at West Chester, Pa., Ohio Univ. at Dela-ware, Ohio Wesleyan at Wabash, Lenoir Rhyne at Wittenberg, Cit-adel at Xavier, Detroit at Dayton (N) and Youngstown at Hillsdale (N).

Iowa State Tailback Gives His Team Plenty of Yardage

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If anyone in the professional ranks is looking for a triggerman for a shotgun offense, contact Dave Hoppman of Iowa State sometime after Jan. 1, 1963. This guy is a natural.

He is the tailback in Coach Clay Stapleton's single wing offense, which means he handles the ball on most offensive plays.

As a sophomore last year, the 6-foot-1, 178-pounder from Madison, Wis., led the Big Eight in rushing with 844 yards, which was also an Iowa State record. However, in 1960 he had fullback Tom Watkins for company and the two made a dynamic pair.

With Watkins gone this year, Hoppman has had to fight off the charges of a pair of talented sophs, Ozzie Clay and Dave Hoover. Maybe this pair inspired him, for he has gained 750 yards in five games, 446 rushing and 304 passing as the Cyclones have won three of the five.

He scored both touchdowns in a 14-7 victory over Oklahoma State and gained 113 yards in a 21-15 victory over Oklahoma, during which Clay scored twice and Hoover once.

Now with Clay sidelined for the year with a knee injury and Hoover as his relief, Hoppman will be called on to do even more.

And how much more can a person do if he is already ranked fourth nationally in individual to-

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Just Like a Man!

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a husband who can't say no to anybody but his wife?

My husband is in the electronics field, and all our neighbors and relatives think that he is a TV and radio repair man. They bring their broken TV sets and radios to our house for him to fix. He doesn't have the necessary parts on hand so he drives miles to get them. He doesn't charge anything except for what he laid out for parts. In the meantime, my own sewing machine has needed repairs since last spring. And the same goes for our son's bicycle. This free service takes all my husband's spare time, and it is getting on my nerves. How can I get it through his thick skull that he is a sucker?

SUCKER'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Your husband apparently ENJOYS running a free repair service and, as long as he enjoys it, you'll never convince HIM that he's a sucker. Doing for others is grand, but charity should begin at home.

DEAR ABBY: The other night I baby-sat for a divorced lady of about 28. She has two children, 5 and 2. I cooked the children's supper, bathed them and put them to bed. The lady told me she would be home about midnight. Well, at 5:30 the next morning she drove up in her driveway. She came in looking a mess, and reeking of beer and whiskey. When I got home my folks were worried sick over me. I am 15, and don't think I should be expected to stay alone practically all night. When she calls me to sit for her again, what excuse can I give her?

SITTER WHO SAT
DEAR SITTER: Tell the "lady" your parents will not permit you to sit for women who do not return home when they promise to.

DEAR ABBY: A question has come up in our lodge. Is it proper to celebrate a wedding anniversary after your husband is deceased? Some friends of mine have no husbands, but they go right on celebrating their anniversaries and receiving gifts. I always thought this was not right.

NEEDS TO KNOW
DEAR NEEDS: You have always thought right!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LOW ON CONFIDENCE": I don't blame you. Tell your "talented" husband to take any kind of job that will pay him a living wage. He sounds like the kind of man who, when opportunity is knocking on his front door, is out in the back yard looking for four-leaf clovers.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ashville MYF Trick-or-Treat Slated Sunday

The Intermediate and Senior Youth Fellowships of the Ashville Methodist Church will "trick-or-treat" for UNICEF throughout the Ashville Community Sunday beginning at 6:30 p. m.

UNICEF stands for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. A UNICEF Halloween enables youth to share their "treats" with children whose need is to overcome hunger, disease, and ill-health.

Trick-or-treat for UNICEF began in 1950 when a few children decided to collect pennies on Halloween to help needy children in other parts of the world instead of candies and apples for themselves.

These pennies have had a far reaching effect. The Rev. Virgil Close, pastor of the Ashville Methodist Church said: one cent given to UNICEF can pay for an inoculation or for five glasses of milk; five cents can provide enough penicillin to cure a disease; thirty-five cents can provide enough save the eyes of a trachoma victim; a dollar will supply disinfectant to protect eight persons from malaria for a year; sulfone to treat a case of leprosy for three years, or five hundred vitamin capsules for children with malnutrition.

UNICEF, as an international agency of humanitarian service, has earned the respect and appreciation of national leaders and congressional committees have endorsed its program and have recommended contribution to its work.

Sherman Nips Junior Tigers

A third quarter touchdown and extra - points combination was all Lancaster Sherman's junior high footballers needed yesterday to hand the Circleville Tiny Tigers their second defeat in five games, 8-6.

The locals, who lost a chance for an undefeated season two weeks ago when Sherman bested them 26-0 in Lancaster, held a 6-0 half-time advantage after Tommy Fletcher plunged into the end zone from the one - yard stripe late in the second quarter. The post TD attempt for added points failed, though.

Sherman tied the tilt in spectacular fashion midway through the third period when Jim Note-stine blasted 73 yards over the CHS turf for the touchdown that evened the game at 6-6. Seconds later Phil Wright romped over the goal line to tally two extra points and clinch the Sherman victory.

The Tiny Tigers, who displayed a rugged defense against the powerful invaders, now hold a 3-2 record. Coach Paul Sarchet's grid-ers cap a six - game slate next Thursday, hosting Lancaster Thomas Ewing. The junior Bengals opened the season with a 26-0 walk over Ewing on the loser's home grounds.
